Truck Crashes Into Brick House; Driver Injured

A tractor-trailer truck driven by Raymond Hash, 33, of 2421 Glen place, crashed through the wall of the one-story brick home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Siglock, 58 University drive, Mitchell, at 10 a.m. today.

The truck, which was west-bound on Interstate 270, blew a tire, veered off the highway and down a 10-foot embankment.

It went through and knocked down about 50 feet of fence, crashed through rose bushes, traversed a field and jumped a nine-foot concrete ditch before striking the one-story house. The roof of the patio collapsed.

No one was in the home at the time. The owner of the house is Mrs. Siglock's mother, Mrs. Betty Sneed, 1411 Norwood drive.

Hash was injured and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment of multiple cuts and bruises.

Madison Revamps City Operation

Three Officials Fired; Removal of Others Planned by Mayor

Madison Mayor Mike Sayk announced plans to revamp the administration and operations of the city and reviewed progress in several areas at a meeting of the city council Tuesday night.

He said persons appointed to city positions will be expected to work at their positions. Financial reports on the status of the budget and written reports on activities and pending action are to be submitted by each department head at the first meeting of the month. They will be asked to be on hand for that meeting, the mayor said.

On a motion by Fifth Ward Alderman John Haynes, the council agreed to terminate the services of Joseph Kula, assistant building inspector, Harold T. Fisk, Civil Defense director, and Louis Kreus, assistant health officer, effective Aug. 31. Mayor Sayk said others will be removed from their positions at the Sept. 1 meeting; when new appointments will be made.

Kozielek Objects

Third Ward Alderman Ray Kozielek, former acting mayor, objected that Haynes' motion was out of order. Second Ward Alderman Donald Broyles defended Kula as being an active official during the last three months of the year.

Partney opened the discussion with the comment that sick leave is costing the city a vast sum of money because of lack of controls and that unless some action was taken, "this problem is going to run into many thousands of dollars."

He said he had before him the records of one city employee who had become involved in a tavern brawl and had been off work because of

Cash Register Looted, 24 Burglaries, Thefts Occur

Looting of a department store cash register was among 24 cases of theft and burglary reported this week in the Quad City area. Included were thefts of eight vehicles and break-ins at five homes and garages.

Madison police are seeking a man with long sideburns and a beard who took $163 from a cash register at Glick's department store, Third street and Madison avenue, Madison, at 5:15 p.m. Tuesday. He ran toward Second street and escaped.

The Negro was six feet tall, weighed about 170 pounds and wore a gold or beige shirt and dark trousers. He had yellowed wire-rim glasses.

Another man, stockily built, five feet, 11 inches tall, wearing a blue-green shirt and plaid trousers, had asked a store employee, Ann McGee, about credit forms. It was at this point that the tall, thin man looted the cash register.

Another employee, Sandy

City May Cut Off First 3 Days of Paid Sick Leave

Acting on a complaint initiated by Mayor Donald Partney, the Granite City council Monday night approved a motion for preparation of an ordinance designed to cut off sick leave for city employees for the first three days of reported illness.

The motion was given complacent approval by some aldermen who remarked they could discuss the matter further when it comes before the council in ordinance form.

Partney, however, told the council that sick leave costs were becoming a "serious problem" that is costing the city "thousands of dollars that we shouldn't have to pay."

LOOT VALUED AT THOUSANDS of dollars, recovered by Madison police at a residence Tuesday night, was taken from SIU-SW, it was later determined. Clarence Edward Smith, 19, of 2014 (rear) Edwardsville road, Madison, was charged yesterday with possession of stolen property. Items found in the home included 11 medical, chemical and scientific books, a microscope, two slide projectors, a "stobotac," an analytical scale, an adjust-a-volt and a precision timer.

GC Council Rejects Tax Rate Boosts

Police Tax, Higher Sewer Rate Proposed; Beaten by Few Votes

Amid warnings that Granite City faces the most critical financial problems of its history unless operating revenue is increased, city council members Monday night shelved one proposal to increase the sewer maintenance fund tax rate by eight cents and held to first reading an ordinance that would levy a new tax rate of five cents for police purposes.

Both ordinances attracted lengthy and heated debate with objections to the tax increases spearheaded by Alderman R. E. Robertson, chairman of the Finance committee. When neither ordinance failed to win adoption, Mayor Donald Partney told the council, "I don't know how you think you are going to run this city."

Both ordinances attracted lengthy and heated debate with objections to the tax increases spearheaded by Alderman R. E. Robertson, chairman of the Finance committee. When neither ordinance failed to win adoption, Mayor Donald Partney told the council, "I don't know how you think you are going to run this city."

Although the tax rate proposals failed to win passage Monday night, both apparently had gained support since a year ago when the council overwhelmingly rejected the police and sewer fund tax rate boost as well as a third rate boost for the city's fire protection fund.

The fact that the proposed five-cent police tax got on first reading was a considerable gain over the status of that ordinance last year.

Schuler Presents Ordinance

The issue came before the council when Paul Schuler, a member of the Ordinance committee, remarked that the city is confronted with many financial difficulties and that several avenues of additional income were open to the city. Schuler, acting as Ordinance committee chairman in the absence of Alderman Walter Nott who is vacationing in Europe, presented an ordinance calling for the levy of a tax of five cents per $100 assessed valuation, allowable under state law. The city does not now extend this tax.

Schuler moved for suspension of the rules so that the ordinance could be placed on final passage in Monday's meeting. Alderman Robertson protested.

He asked City Treasurer E. R. "Pat" Rich how much taxes the five-cent rate would produce. Rich said the amount would vary depending upon the amount of the city's assessed

Wm. E. Barritt, Wounded in Vietnam, Dies

S/4 William E. Barritt, 24, of Venice, died in a Vietnamese hospital of burns and other wounds suffered when the helicopter in which he was a gunner was shot down in action in Vietnam Aug. 8, according to word received by his parents early Tuesday morning.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. F.D. Barritt, 209 Weber street, Venice, who were informed last Tuesday that he was in critical condition of wounds, principally burns, sustained when his aircraft was hit by hostile fire. At that time Mr. and Mrs. Barritt were told by Kenneth Wisnorn, major general of the Department of the Army at Washington, that S/4 Barritt was in serious condition.

Mrs. Barritt told the Press-Record that a representative of the Granite City Army Depot notified she and her husband of their boy's death about 6:30 a.m. Tuesday. They also were notified officially by telegram that William died in the hospital in Vietnam on Friday, Aug. 8.

When Mr. and Mrs. Barritt were notified last Sunday that their son had been wounded, Army officials informed them. William was serving aboard an aircraft when it was struck by hostile fire during a mission in Vietnam. The parents were informed he suffered third degree burns over six percent of his body and second degree burns to 38 percent of his body, including the head, neck, trunk, both hands, both hips, both thighs and the left foot.

Young Barritt also was reported to have suffered fractures of the right arm with an apparent nerve injury, according to information received by the family from the Red Cross.

Barritt was born in Meridian, Miss., but had spent much of his life in Venice. He was a graduate of Venice high school and for two years attended the Bible Institute at Cleveland, Tenn.

He formerly served as pastor of the Church of God of Prophecy at Manchester, Tenn.

Re-Enlists For 6 Years

Barritt was assigned to Vietnam June 18, 1969, and upon completion of his year of service this year signed up to extend his tour in that country for another six months. He enlisted for a new six-year period, according to his parents.

In addition to his parents he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Gail Barritt, who lives in Meridian, Miss., and a two-year-old son, Christopher.

He also leaves two brothers, Francis Dale Barritt of 201A Weber street, Venice, and Calvin Barritt, at home.

Funeral services will be held in Meridian, Miss., at a date to be announced when the body is returned to this country later this month.

Maryville Road Extension Plan Ok'd by County

$1.5 Million MFT Fund Approved; GC Share To Cost About $500,000

The long-sought extension of Maryville road from Pontoon road southward to Highway 162 — providing a highly improved traffic route skirting the eastern edge of Granite City — has been initiated by the Madison County Highway Department in a plan that will be joined immediately by Granite City, it was disclosed this week.

The proposed highway project will be a joint county-city project, without state participation, at a cost of approximately $2 million.

Of the total cost, the county will provide an estimated $1.5 million. Granite City would pay the balance, presently projected at $450,000 to $500,000. Both the county and the city are to share their shares of the cost out of motor fuel tax funds.

Madison county, it was reported, already has approved a resolution providing for appropriation of its $1.5 million share of the highway construction cost. County officials said yesterday negotiations with Granite City officials to plan the city's participation in the program are to be held immediately.

Want City Meeting

Arthur W. "Cooper" Moore, supervisor of Venice township and chairman of the Road and Bridge committee of the Madison county board of supervisors, said that he was attempting to arrange a meeting today with Granite City Mayor Donald Partney and other city officials to discuss the plan and arrangements for city adoption of the necessary resolutions to appropriate Granite City's share of the funds.

The proposed highway would be a four-lane roadway extending about eight years ago, also as a joint city-county project. The new highway would extend almost directly southward generally following a path that would encompass the presently paved section of Maryville road from Stratford Lane to St. Clair avenue. This is only a matter of a few blocks, however.

Eleven Recover From Surgery at Hospital

The following are recovering from major surgery which they underwent at St. Elizabeth Hospital since Monday:

County Approves Project

The county action in appropriating $1.5 million in motor fuel tax for the highway job was announced in a meeting of the Granite City council Monday night. Council members praised Granite City township supervisors for their efforts in obtaining county action in the project. No objection by city officials to the project was sounded during the discussion, indicating that Granite City expects to go along with the construction project without much difficulty.

When it was pointed out that the city will have to provide about one-half million in construction cost, it was pointed out that the city will have to provide about one-half million in construction cost.

Retailers Join Sponsorship of Taxpayer Group

The Associated Retailers and Civic Association joined Tuesday in sponsorship of the recently formed Tri-City Taxpayers Public Expenditures Survey Group.

The Retail Association board of directors, in a resolution noting that retail and personal property taxes in the area "have risen three and one-half times as fast as the cost of living since 1949" agreed to support the Taxpayers Survey group and act as a co-sponsor along with the Manufacturers Association of the Tri-Cities and the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce.

The Taxpayers Expenditure Survey Group was organized last fall, initially with backing of retail and personal property taxes in the area "have risen three and one-half times as fast as the cost of living since 1949" agreed to support the Taxpayers Survey group and act as a co-sponsor along with the Manufacturers Association of the Tri-Cities and the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce.

The survey committee also has focused public attention on the rising tax burden and on the source of higher tax costs—the expenditures of taxing bodies. In the resolution adopted at its regular Tuesday meeting, the Retail Association board and chairman of the Road and Bridge committee of the Madison county board of supervisors, said that he was attempting to arrange a meeting today with Granite City Mayor Donald Partney and other city officials to discuss the plan and arrangements for city adoption of the necessary resolutions to appropriate Granite City's share of the funds.

W. W. Allen Appointed To SIU Trustee Post

William W. Allen of Normal, normal secretary for the Illinois Agricultural Association, has been appointed a member of the Southern Illinois University of trustees by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie.

Allen, 45, fills the vacancy created by the resignation of Eugene T. Simonds, a Carbonate contractor. He will attend his first meeting tomorrow at Carbondale, though the appointment as yet must be confirmed by the Illinois Senate.

A graduate of the University of Illinois, Allen has been vice-chairman of the Board of Governors of State Colleges and Universities since 1967, a post he resigned on Tuesday to accept the new position.

VENICE TEACHER TALKS DEADLOCKED

Contract negotiations between Venice Federation of Teachers Local 965 and the board of education remained deadlocked today following a session Tuesday evening.

It was the fourth meeting of the summer in attempts to resolve a salary issue. Agreement has been reached in other points of the contract.

Stanley Lynch, local president, said the board of a offer would leave Venice teachers below those in comparable school systems in the matter of salary.

A spokesman for the union said the teachers salary request would fit the tentative district budget adopted recently by the board.

The local has scheduled a meeting for 3 p.m. Monday at the Les Park community center.

NEW POLICE CHIEF

Harold Denham of Pontoon Beach dispatches radio message to village's two quad cars. Denham, 15 Lakeview drive, was appointed chief of police by Pontoon Beach Village board. He succeeds Ed Jelf who held the post nearly two years. Pontoon Beach police department, made up of nine volunteer officers, now occupies a new trailer-type headquarters at 3924 Lake drive.

Adult Dance Set for Friday at Park Rink

A dance for persons 25 years of age and older will be sponsored by the Granite City park district from 8 to 11 p.m. Friday at the ice rink-recreation center at Wilson Park.

The Walt Schiemer Orchestra will be featured. Tables and chairs will be lined around the band stand similar to a night club setting. Admission will be $1 per person.

MORE ABOUT GC Council

valuation, but Robertson pressed him, for an estimate.

Rich said that on the basis of the Granite City property valuation for the 1969 tax year, on which tax bills were based for collection this year, the police tax would bring in about $106,000.

Cost Taxpayers $106,000. "Then this action would cost the taxpayers $106,000," Robertson said. "The taxpayers are ready are overburdened. We are adding the straws that are going to break the camel's back."

Alderman Paul Rutledge, former chairman of the Finance committee, broke in: "I agree—as long as this council sits here and grants salary raises year after year. You can't keep raising the cost of government," he said, speaking to Robertson "without providing for increased revenue to meet the cost."

As chairman of the Finance committee, Robertson also headed preparation of the new city budget which included salary increases for city employees.

Neither Alderman Charles Moerlien nor Schuler, who with Robertson make up the present Finance committee, agreed with Robertson's stand on the tax issue.

Moerlien noted that adoption of the tax rate ordinance "will not help us this year because the tax won't be collected until next summer, but we are facing a big reduction in assessments for next year's tax collections. I think the people know that we have to pay more for government and I don't think they will object," Schuler followed the same line of reasoning.

A sharp exchange of words between Robertson and Alderman Thomas Boker developed when Robertson made a remark about the mayor's spending policies.

"This is ridiculous," Boker said, jumping to his feet. "For you to call this mayor a spend-thrift is to say something that isn't true. This mayor has watched the money better than any person I know. He has been a thrifty mayor."

Parney spoke up. "This mayor would make it thrifty if a lot of things were done that I suggested be done, instead of the council trying to block me at every turn."

A vote on Schuler's motion to suspend the rules for final passage brought three "no" votes, with nine of the 12 aldermen present voting in favor. Absent were Nann, Clyde Boyd and Steve Basarich. Those voting "no" were Robertson, Roy Poulos and Claude Green.

Adoption of a motion to suspend the rules requires a minimum vote of 11 in favor.

Seeks First Reading. With the motion for final passage declared lost, Schuler then moved that the ordinance for the five-cent police tax be placed on first reading, an action that requires a minimum of nine favorable votes. Of the 12 aldermen present, eight voted "yes" and four voted "no," clearing the way for Mayor Parney to vote on the issue. He voted in favor, providing the ninth required vote to place the ordinance on first reading. The mayor can vote in certain instances, one of them being when his vote can decide an issue.

Schuler presented the second tax ordinance, but made no effort to suspend the rules. In view of the opposition to the police tax measure, Schuler moved only that the ordinance proposing a sewer maintenance fund tax rate of 18 cents per $100 assessed valuation be placed on first reading.

Granite City presently levies a tax of two cents for the sewer maintenance fund. The ordinance would boost the levy eight cents.

This measure was defeated Sunday with virtually no discussion, seven aldermen voting "no" and five voting "yes." Those voting "no" were Rutledge, Sam Whitmer, William Dallas, Robertson, Green, Everett Morfin and Boker.

Warns of Problems. Both Rutledge and Moerlien sounded warnings of serious financial problems unless the city finds more income. Rutledge pointed to the sewer breaks during the past year and the $1 million in unsanitized costs resulting.

"This could happen again," Rutledge said. "You had better cut down on your spending and start laying some money aside. A year from now, at the present rate, the city is going to be in critical condition financially."

Moerlien told the council that the state has received less than

Extensive Damage to Building Struck by Bus

No specific damage estimate has yet been made on a building owned by Clarence Swegheim at 204 Madison avenue, Madison, struck Aug. 18 by a Bi-State Transit System bus driven by Stephen Travis, 31, St. Louis.

Travis, who said his brakes momentarily failed, was charged with excessive speed for traffic conditions. After knocking down bricks and damaging an aluminum and glass entrance to the building, the bus crossed a median into south-bound lanes, crossed back and ran past a stoplight at Third street before coming to a halt in the 300 block.

Vandals Break Windows

come tax than it expected, which will mean shorting the cities. "We have already invested our working cash fund. So we face serious problems," the alderman added.

Youth, 17, Hit By Pellets from Woman's Shotgun

A 17-year-old youth was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital with shotgun wounds after a 12-gauge shotgun in the hands of a 65-year-old woman was discharged in West Madison at 8:30 p.m. Monday.

Bruce Crawford, of 121 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, son of a Venice police officer, Algie Crawford, suffered pellet wounds of the left shoulder, abdomen, both thighs and both knees. His condition is not regarded as serious.

Police charged Rubin Hill, 78, and his wife, Rosie, 65, with failing to obtain a firearm owner identification card for their shotgun, kept in a bedroom closet at their home, 801 Bissell street. Mrs. Hill was charged with reckless conduct.

Witnesses Differ. Varying accounts were given by witnesses, although all agreed that the gun was in her hands and discharged after she emerged from the back door of her home.

She said she had been oiling the gun, heard children outside and went out to see what they were doing. The gun fired accidentally as she was bending down, she related.

A group of high school-age youths said they had been playing football on West Third street between Bissell and Franklin streets and broke up a fight between younger boys. Several ran when they saw a woman with a gun, they related. None had spoken to her, nor had she spoken to anyone, police said.

Her husband told officers that on past occasions boys aged 10-13 had climbed the Hills' back yard fence, stepped on his tomato plants and stolen apples from his apple tree.

Daniel Forcade, 91, Dies; 70-Year Resident

Daniel D. Forcade Jr., 91, of 2713 Iowa street, died at 7:45 p.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital following a lengthy illness. He was in the hospital one week.

A native of Smithton, Ill., he resided here 70 years. He was employed as a molder at General Steel Industries before he retired, and then served as a Press-Record custodian for more than 20 years. He was a member of St. Peter United Church of Christ.

His wife, Mrs. Hulda Forcade, died in January, 1968. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Maurine Anthony of Granite City; a son, Lester Forcade of Richmond, Va.; one grandchild and two great-grandchildren.

An obituary notice appears elsewhere in this issue.

Bushes Cause Collision

Tall bushes at an intersection caused a collision of autos driven by Ruby L. Riggins, 2129 Delmar avenue, and Daphne Hodges, 2724 Harvey place, at 4:40 p.m. Tuesday at 13th and Meridian streets.

struction cost, one alderman noted that it is possible for the city to borrow against the future tax allotments for major projects and remarked that "I don't know what the cost might be. This is something we have wanted for a long time."

County highway department officials pointed out, however, that the project "is just now getting off the ground," and that construction work cannot be expected until late next year. The beginning of work possibly could extend into early 1972, they said.

Must Buy Right-of-Way

They noted that while the project has been initiated officially, the city must first obtain surveys, planning and purchase of right-of-way along the entire route, although the city owns some land that may be made easily available for the project.

The county will pay for that part of the work necessary in the unincorporated area of the highway route, while Granite City will be required to finance construction of the area lying within the city limits.

In discussing the project at the Granite City council meeting Monday night, Alderman Gerald "Jerry" Parney told the council:

"We owe a big vote of thanks to the supervisors of Granite City township who have been able to steer this thing through the county board of supervisors. This is the greatest thing that can happen to Granite City. We have been after this project for years."

Funeral of Mrs. Ruth Haas Held Wednesday

Funeral services were held yesterday at a Wood River funeral home for Mrs. Ruth Haas, 62, East Alton, sister of Mrs. Laura Kent of Granite City. Burial took place at Rose Lawn Cemetery, Bethalto.

Mrs. Haas, a member of the East Alton First Baptist Church and an employee of an Alton hospital's clothing department, died Aug. 15 at the Jewish Hospital, St. Louis, where she had been a patient for a week. She also is survived by her mother, two sons, four other sisters, a brother and five grandchildren.

Accounting, Business Graduates in Demand

The decade of the 1970s may prove to be a boom for college graduates seeking employment in the area of accounting and business administration.

A survey completed by the College Placement Council, whose membership roster of 1000 schools includes Southern Illinois University, reveals that although the engineer and scientist are still in the limelight—demanding and getting the top dollar in beginning salaries at the bachelor degree level—the current "soft market" is catering to the accounting and business administration majors.

The data, which is limited to male students and covers actual offers made by business and industrial firms in 141 colleges from coast to coast, approximates "very closely" the situation at Southern Illinois University, according to Herall Largent, director of Placement Services.

Salary Offers
The Council's salary survey reports that the accounting salary average has witnessed a 21.3% gain (to $836 monthly) in two years. The accounting figure of $836 is $115 above the highest non-technical figure and compares well with beginning salaries being offered in all but the highest engineering disciplines.

At the graduate level, masters of business administration experienced smaller decreases in the number of offers reported than candidates in technical categories, according to national and local figures.

The masters of business administration were also at the forefront in dollar averages at the master degree level. The average for those with a non-technical background increased 8.5% (to $1044). The next highest average was $1036 for chemical engineers.

Blake Aiding Venezuela Festival for Children

Hundreds of elementary school children in Venezuela are learning a great deal more about their country, thanks in part to Major Jule C. Blake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jule C. Blake, 2435 Grand avenue, and his fellow C-130 Hercules crew members.

Major Blake and his crew were temporarily assigned to Albright Air Force Base, Balboa, Canal Zone, from their home station at Lockbourne AFB, Ohio, this summer to participate in an inspired program initiated by the Venezuelan government to reward thousands of school children for their academic achievements during the year.

The program is supported by the U. S. Air Force and other agencies.

Under the program, known as the "Festival del Niño," or Children's Festival, youngsters are given a 10-day expense-paid vacation in a different area of their country.

Children from mountain areas are taken to the coast while those who reside on the coast are taken to the mountains, or youngsters from the city visit the country while their country cousins go to the city.

10,000 Participating
This year, 10,000 boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 12 are taking part in the festival. They are being transported to vacation sites by land, sea and air.

Major Blake's crew flew the first group of children to a vacation location. For most of the youngsters, it was their first plane ride. And, for many, it was the first time away from home.

They were allowed to visit the cockpit area and ask questions during the flight. Six Spanish-speaking U. S. Air Force non-commissioned officers helped assemble the children and briefed them prior to and during the trip.

The major's unit at Lockbourne Air Command which provides combat units for air support of U. S. ground forces.

Master Navigator
Major Blake, who has 14 years of military service, has served with expeditionary forces in Berlin, Cuba, Laos and the Dominican Republic. He has completed a tour of combat duty in Vietnam and holds the aeronautical rating of master navigator.

A 1952 graduate of Granite City high school, he received a bachelor of science degree in 1956 from St. Louis University, where he was commissioned through the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program.

The major and his wife, Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Henson, Little Rock, Ark., have two daughters, Regina, 11, and Rebecca, 9.

Leaves Accident Scene
An auto which left the scene caused a collision of autos driven by John T. Guille, 2805

Forest avenue, and Barbara A. Wall, Edwardsville, at 10 a.m. Wednesday at Nameoki road and Victory drive.

No Loitering Law OK'd in Madison

The Madison city council adopted a no loitering ordinance providing for the regulation of traffic and maintaining order and decorum at business establishments during a meeting Tuesday night.

Mayor Mike Sasyk reported that complaints are being received of loitering and peace disturbances at drive-in and other business establishments, especially after they are closed.

He said it causes congestion and impedes vehicular and pedestrian traffic. Penalties range from $10 to $400 for each offense.

The ordinance makes it unlawful for motorists while on any business parking area to race the motor, make sudden starts or stops or make excessive noise.

It bans parking in an area after a business establishment has been closed and prohibits persons to "loiter, dawdle, dally, idle or engage in any indulgent activities" in any business establishment or its parking area at any time.

It will be unlawful to drive on a business parking lot without the intention of parking. Proprietors are to provide devices directing traffic entering and leaving the area and are to place at least three signs with at least two-inch high letters reading:

"It is unlawful to park on these premises without the consent of the owner or to traverse this area after business hours or to loiter herein."

Leland Kennedy, Sheriff George Musso, Kenneth Hanson, Granite City Assessor James Barton, Dorothy Fuido, Clemmie Owens, Ellen Stevens, County Clerk Eulalia Hotz, State Rep. Sam Vadalabane, Margaret Herring and Ida Dant.

Each fall candidate spoke briefly. Plans were made for a number of those attending to attend a Democratic parade and a ball at the Armory in Springfield, Ill., as part of today's State Fair activities.

Drug Abuse Topic of Meet At Umbrella Coffee House

The Polychromatic Umbrella Coffee House, 310 Madison avenue, Madison will sponsor an informal discussion on drug abuse Sunday at 7:30 p.m. The session will be directed by Irving Miles and Miss Phyllis Hinton of Coordinated Youth Services.

Several films will be shown. The program will be open to all young people.

The center will then close until Sept. 11 for extensive remodeling, which will include construction of a new concession stand, new lighting, and a proposed public address system. Donors are being sought for used furniture, paint, lumber, plaster board, and the public address system.

A portion of the building will be remodeled as an educational center where discussion groups will meet once each week to concentrate on such subjects as drugs, ecology, and sociology. Several area agencies have been asked to direct the sessions. An afternoon tutoring program also is in the formative stage, with high school and college age students providing the instruction. With the expansion of activities at the center, an additional ten to fifteen adult advisors are being sought.

An art gallery and used bookstore also will be added at the coffee house, with books to be donated by interested persons. Anyone interested in donating used books or in displaying art work is asked to contact Chuck Collett, 878-1801.

Several fall fund raising activities are being planned. The music festival, previously postponed because of adverse weather conditions, will be held in Lee Park on August 29, and a carnival is scheduled for Sept. 5. In addition, five of the six display windows at the center are available to advertisers. Anyone wishing to help in any way is asked to contact Steve Beatty, 877-1866.

Ogilvie Says Past Problems Being Solved

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie Wednesday accused Illinois Democrats of avoiding issues and attempting to "sell America short" in the 1970 campaign. He joined a number of top state Republican officials, including GOP candidates for state office in addressing a large Governor's Day crowd at the State Fair in Springfield.

Ogilvie warned that Democratic "merchants of misery" will travel to every city and hamlet of Illinois peddling their pessimistic wares to all those left enough to listen.

He said Democrats are "afraid to face the issues—because they created the problems. They lack the confidence and the determination to solve them." He cited several problems facing current Republican officeholders, which he said originated under a Democratic administration:

"It wasn't the Republican party which sent a half-million American boys to Vietnam to fight the longest war in our history."

It wasn't the Republican party whose disastrous federal fiscal policies created the worst inflationary spiral in a generation, which left state government teetering on the brink of bankruptcy, or which permitted Illinois highways to deteriorate into the most dangerous roads in the nation.

U.S. Fundamentally Sound

Republicans, Ogilvie said, "share a sturdy confidence in the future of this state and this nation. And the Republican record of responsible government reflects that confidence in the fundamental soundness of America—our belief that the American people are united in a common commitment to action."

That commitment, Ogilvie added, has resulted in a "state government that is on the move." He cited progress in strengthening the state's attack on crime and violence, in nearly doubling state aid to local schools, in rebuilding deteriorating roads, in creating new state machinery for fighting pollution, and in streamlining the state's budget procedures.

At the federal level, he commended President Nixon's efforts to end the Vietnam war and to reverse the "tide of inflation which picks the pocket of every American."

MORE ABOUT Madison Revamps

years. Kozielek and Fourth Ward Aldermen Mike Silora and Christ Costoff passed on a roll call vote.

The mayor announced plans to revamp the police department and to form a cadet police department for youths between 16 and 20 years old.

He noted that the police department now has no one available for investigations, and one man will be assigned full time to investigate and prosecute criminal cases. Officers assigned to West Madison are to be headquartered at the main station.

Youths in the cadet corps would receive almost the same training as policemen, the mayor said, and they would be given first consideration for future police jobs. He added that they would receive consideration for jobs with the sheriff's department and state police.

"We want to keep the crime rate down and get it lower," he commented.

The mayor appointed John Kogachak Jr. to 821 Greenwood street, as a full-time recreation director at a salary of $650 per month. The mayor called for "an active, aggressive program throughout the year for youngsters and adults." Kogachak is a life-long resident of Madison and has been active in Boy Scout work.

Four additional men are being added to the volunteer fire department, and Sam Dymas and John Robinson were named as six-month probationary firemen. Two others from the West Madison area are to be named later on the recommendation of Fire Chief Eldon Rhoads.

Appointed to the citizens advisory committee on taverns were Harry Johnson, chairman; William Gushfield Jr., Harry Theissen, Claude Echols and William Jenkins. Mayor Sasyk said he may appoint a woman to the group, which is to hold its first meeting next week.

The resignation of Norman S. Owca as a member of the city's municipal plan commission was accepted.

Receive $10,000 Grant

The Illinois Law Enforcement Commission informed the city that a $10,000 grant for police department equipment has been approved, with 50% to be provided now.

MORE — MORE — MORE — Mayor Sasyk said he would meet with Police Chief Frank Dutko and the police committee to determine the equipment which would be most beneficial in a $13,900 program. The city is to finance the additional $3900.

Also to be considered is a proposal from the Southwest Illinois Law Enforcement Commission to participate in a cooperative joint purchase of equipment.

The mayor reported on a meeting with Caine Steel Co. executives on a proposed half-million-dollar expansion of the firm's new plant at the Stephen Maers industrial park.

After being asked to re-write a lease agreement on the plant, Mayor Sasyk said it was suggested that the land be sold to the company, which then would sell the new building back to the city. The new addition under the plan would net the city $15,000 a year plus added real estate taxes, the mayor noted.

He commented that the sale of an industrial park tract to the Swift Co. has been completed at no cost to the city except for $18 for documentary stamps.

Use of Bridge

Mayor Sasyk announced that meetings will be held at 8:30 a.m. Monday and 10:30 a.m. Tuesday on proposed uses of the Chain of Rocks bridge and 154 acres of adjoining property.

The council discussed vandalism and theft of barricades and warning lights at the bridge. The mayor suggested reducing the amount of insurance on the bridge from $3,725,000, with an annual premium of $5700, to $1 million.

The mayor announced that city ordinances would be updated after the first of the year. John Gitchoff of the legal department commented that experts could codify the ordinances similar to what was done in Granite City, Venice and Alton, and that the cost would be $8000 to $10,000.

The council authorized purchases by the fire department of six coats, nine pairs of boots, 10 sections of 2½-inch hose and six sections of 1½-inch hose.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jenkins of 93 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, who celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at a gathering of 200 at the Venice recreation center. The assembly included their nine children, 35 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren, and the children presented them with gold wedding bands. They renewed their vows with their minister, Rev. Norvell Woolfolk officiating; attendants were their oldest son, Charles Jenkins, and oldest daughter, Mrs. Marie Haynes.

Advantages of Downtown Mall Cited in Talk

Advantages to the entire Quad-City area from establishment of a mall in downtown Granite City were cited by Henry Gabriel in an address to Granite City Rotarians at their weekly luncheon Tuesday at the YMCA.

An architect and president of the Granite City park board, Gabriel is chairman of the Downtown Renewal Committee of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce.

A full mall is planned on Niedringhaus avenue from Cleveland blvd. to Edison avenue and a semi-mall on 19th street from Cleveland to State street.

Property owners and proprietors of stores and businesses along those two streets are contributing toward the cost of the project, along with those in the larger area encompassed within the central business district.

Good success is being achieved in contacts with the stores and building owners, and all stand to benefit through the increase in the general economic activity stimulated by the installation of attractive and convenient new facilities for shoppers, visitors and residents, Gabriel said.

Actual construction of the mall and semi-mall is expected to take three months after detailed plans are completed and bids are sought.

Walter Milton introduced the speaker, President John Polson presided and the club discussed progress on its Modern Living Show to be held at the Wilson Park ice rink Friday, Aug. 28 through Sunday, Aug. 30.

A Rotary District 646 "fun day" was announced for Sept. 15 at Sunset Hills Country club and an annual club barbecue for Sept. 17 at the B. E. Moody farm.

Stevenson Urges Gun Laws, More Funds for Police

State Treasurer Adlai E. Stevenson III, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, commenting yesterday on the death of Chicago Police Detective James Alfano, said, "Violence in our society, reflected in his tragic death and in the guerrilla warfare which broke out at the Southmore Hotel, will not be wiped out by pious statements. Violence can be diminished if we give police our wholehearted support and provide the legislation to back up the police. It would be wrong to excuse this shooting by saying 'juveniles' or 'young people' were involved. It was premeditated murder."

"Seven Chicago policemen have been murdered in 1970 and it cannot be dismissed in a morass of sociological rationalizations. The murderers must be found and brought to trial quickly. If guilty, they must be punished."

Cool Professionalism
"Once again on Aug. 13, as in last month's Grant Park riot, we saw policemen handling an extremely dangerous situation with coolness and professionalism, preventing the kind of wholesale massacre that has happened elsewhere this summer."

"But police need more than praise and congratulatory statements. They need the support of every law abiding citizen and the support of public officials with concrete aid," Stevenson said.

"That means federal legislation restricting ownership of hand guns, restrictions which can be effectively enforced. Most policemen are killed by hand guns. Most violent crimes are committed with hand guns. They are made for no purpose except to kill."

"That means controls on the possession of dynamite. Dynamite was exploded in Ohio over the weekend as a cover for planned robberies."

Pay, Training, Manpower
"That means money for more police and better paid police, not just here, but throughout the state and the nation. That means more money for better training and for modern, up-to-date equipment and arms to meet today's problems of violence."

"That means federal and state funds to provide training and manpower to deal specifically with riots. That means insurance benefits for maimed policemen and for widows and children."

"FBI statistics continue to show an alarming increase in crime. It will not be diminished by cheap and easy answers like 'no-knock' provisions or by more empty campaign rhetoric and broken promises."
"Violence is self-defeating. It consumes its authors, it terrorizes the community, it solves no problems, and it polarizes the people of this nation."

Registration Set For Pre-School Program

Children may be registered for the Title I Pre-School Program at McKinley school next week beginning on Monday. To be eligible, children must live in the McKinley School district and reach their fourth birthday on or before Dec. 31, this year. The class is limited to an enrollment of 30 children and preference will be given to children from low income families or those receiving public assistance, although any child may attend. Requirement of physical and dental examinations, immunizations and birth certificates are the same as for children starting kindergarten. These requirements may be completed after registration but must be met before actual attendance starts.

The pre-school class is one part of a federally financed program intended to serve economically disadvantaged children. Funds are provided for services above and beyond the regular school program. Other phases of the local program include developmental reading, counseling services and concentrated health services. Persons interested in registering their children for the half day class, which will meet in the mornings, are urged to contact McKinley school next week. Questions may be referred to Mr. Dale C. Rea, Assistant to the Superintendent, at the Board of Education office, 876-6600.

Gasoline Bomb Thrown
A bottle containing gasoline and a wick was thrown onto the sidewalk at the home of Jerry Peacher, 2640 Duane Street, at 8:50 p.m. Wednesday. It was reported by a neighbor. It broke and the contents landed on the concrete and grass. There was no damage.

Bellemore Hosts 13-1 Milstadt

Bellemore Sporting Goods will play an exhibition double-header in Wilson Park at 1 p.m. Saturday, facing Milstadt, the Monroe Division leader of the Mon-Clair League. Milstadt has lost only once in 14 league outings.

Rookie Ron "Deacon" Simpson and John Corrie are the probable starting pitchers for Bellemore.

Simpson last week earned a 1-0 shutout over Columbia, driving home the only run with a well-placed hit.

Corrie, with similarly well timed bat work, slugged home the winning run in the second game of last week's doubleheader at Columbia. With the score tied 3-3, Corrie singled, sending home Rodger Coakley for the 4-3 victory.

The Southern Illinois University football Salukis will be playing under the lights again this year. The lights, being repaired by volunteer workers in the Carbondale area, have been out of order since 1967.

Stock, Sprint, Midget Cars

Tripleheader at Speedway Aug. 28

Midget cars, super sprint cars and hobby-stock cars will all get together for a tripleheader of auto racing at the Tri-City Speedway Friday night, Aug. 28 — the first tripleheader in Tri-City Speedway history.

Each race car division will qualify separately. The fastest triple-feature and adding up a nine-event night.

Busy Night for Spalding
There will be three kinds of cars, three kinds of racing and three kinds of driving. And only one Wib Spalding—but he intends to enter all three divisions.

In the super sprint division, Spalding will drive the familiar-to-Quad-Cityans No. 401.

In the hobby-stock division, he will drive the same 1969 Plymouth that he drove to a feature win last Friday, No. 83.

In the midget division, Spalding will chauffeur car No. 90, which will be driven for the first time outside the U. S. Auto Club racing circuit.

Spalding won't be the only driver making a triple-threat attack at the tripleheader: Ronny Taylor, a USAC driver from St. Louis, and Gary Jenkins of Bethalto also intend to drive in all three divisions.

Change in Rules
Only Spalding has raced in more than one type of auto in the same evening; until two weeks ago the rules forbade a driver entering more than one division in the same program.

With the rules change, Spalding was immediately in demand by hobby-stock car owners. In his first dual-duty driving night, he won the sprint feature and placed sixth in the hobby feature.

It was his first time competitively driving a stock car since 1955.

He won the hobby feature last week, but was unable to finish the sprint car feature, due to mechanical problems. He lost two sprint car engines during the evening.

Astrodome Competition
Spalding could be a strong runner in the midget division with the No. 90 midget car though he hasn't driven a midget car since last year's race in the Houston Astrodome.

The "favorite" among the midget division drivers here probably will be Don Vogler.

Vogler is 29th in the all-time USAC midget points standings. He currently ranks 17th in the USAC national midget standings.

Pre-Season Rules for 545 Elevens

Rules of the Illinois High School Association (IHSA) will allow approximately 545 schools, including Granite City and Madison Highs, to begin football practice on Wednesday, Aug. 26.

Schools may issue equipment and arrange to have players take their required physical examinations at an earlier date, but under the rules of the IHSA, no school may organize or practice its team before the second Wednesday preceding Labor Day.

Players must have engaged in a minimum of 90 minutes of actual field practice on each of 14 days preceding the first interschool game or scrimmage and no school may play its opening game earlier than Friday, Sept. 18, this year.

Jr. High Coaches Schedule Grid Meetings; Practices

Granite City junior high football coaches have worked out a schedule with athletic director Joe Fodora for checking out equipment to prospective players.

Each prospective player, before he can be assigned equipment, must have physical examination forms filled out by his personal doctor, plus signed parental permission forms.

Medical and parental permission forms may be obtained at any of the junior high school offices or at the board of education office.

Grigsby head coach Ron Yates will have ninth graders reporting Monday between 9 a.m. and noon. Eighth-graders will report Tuesday between 9 a.m. and noon. The first Gator practice is scheduled for 9 a.m. Wednesday.

At Speedway Friday

Track Title Fighters Must Stop Utz

It's beginning to look like Bill Utz will run away with the Tri-City Speedway sprint car championship.

But he hasn't clinched the crown yet and a full host of title challengers will be trying to slow Utz's drive for the title at the Speedway Friday.

Time trials are at 7:30 p.m.; the racing program begins at 8:30 p.m. The hobby-stock car division program will be on the half-mile oval along with the sprint cars.

Utz has gathered a total of 2150 points in the standings. With Spaulding is runnerup with 1600 points. Russ Hibbard, feature winner last week, is quickly rising in the standings and stands third with 1320.

Jim Moughan, including second place in last week's feature, has passed Dick Sutcliffe for fourth with a 1240 total. Sutcliffe has 1200 points.

Others who may still hold title hopes are Junior Deitzel with 1140 and Jerry Camfield, 990. Also in the top ten are Dick Standridge, 890, Jerry Blundy 440 and Ronny Perkins, 410.

Consistent Pointmaker
There has been no dramatic turning point in Utz's drive toward the championship. He simply regularly places well in the majority of events.

Utz will not be driving his blue No. 56 sprint car this week. No. 56 is being readied for a Saturday race at Utz's hometown, Sedalia, Mo. But he promises to be here Friday defending his top ranking in the standings, driving another car.

Spaulding, who won the hobby-stock feature last week, fared poorly in sprint car events. He collected only 20 points, placing fourth in a heat event.

Sutcliffe took a week off from the Tri-City Speedway last week, running in the Knoxville, Ia., Original National. He placed second there behind Joe "Little Greek" Saldana.

Deitzel's auto was seriously damaged last Saturday at Jefferson City, Mo. His mechanics are working toward readying the car, but it is doubted that he can complete the repairs before the Friday deadline.

POLISHING UP OR POLISHING OFF? Dick Sutcliffe, absent from the Speedway last week, will be "polishing up" his equipment for a renewed drive for the truck championship. Last week at the Knoxville, Ia., Original National $20,000 total purse races, he "polished off" everyone but Joe "Little Greek" Saldana. Saldana won the race, going pole-to-pole. Sutcliffe took second after starting fifth.

Loll Assistant Cage Coach at University

Frank S. Loll, 28, has been named assistant basketball coach at Southern Illinois University's Southern campus. It was announced by Jim Dudley, the Cougars' varsity coach. Loll, a native of East Moline, Ill., comes to SIU-SW after three years as assistant varsity coach at East Aurora, Ill., high school under Ernie Kivisto.

After playing three years for East Moline high, he obtained a bachelor's degree in education at Augustana College, Rock Island, Ill., in 1964 and starred in basketball for the Vikings. He was a forward.

Loll is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Loll, East Moline. Loll's father, former standout player for the SIU-Carbonale Salukis, will continue as freshman coach of the Cougars.

Dudley, who will be beginning his first season as varsity basketball coach at SIU-SW, succeeded Harry J. Gallatin, the Cougars' athletic director. It will be the fourth season of intercollegiate basketball for SIU-SW.

Auto Filled with Grass

Mercer Hosts 'Twoheader' —Collinsville and East Alton

Mercer must divide its attention between the two highest standing teams, other than itself, of the Inter-City Baseball League in a split doubleheader: a twoheader 7-at-Wilson Park Sunday.

East Alton, third in the standings with an 8-4 record, will visit Mercer at 1 p.m. Immediately following the game, league-leading Collinsville, carrying a 13-4 record, will play Mercer, filling out the second half of the twinbill.

Mercer, second with a 10-6 log, could finish the weekend a twoheader out of first or tied for fourth.

Winning both ends of the "twoheader" would give Mercer a 12-5 log and Collinsville 13-4.

Dropping both ends of the "twoheader" would leave Mercer with a 10-7 mark; East Alton would receive a win for beating Mercer and another win for forfeit from a regularly scheduled encounter with Belle-More Sporting Goods, which has dropped from the league. This would give the Machinists a 10-6 mark.

Two Games for Maryville
East Alton could also pick up a win in a league game scheduled at home with Maryville at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Maryville will visit Highland in another league matchup at contest.

2.30 p.m. Sunday. Maryville now has an 8-7 record.

East Alton will probably start Jim Blackledge on the mound. The whiz kid pitcher of the league, Bruce Thompson, will likely get the starting nod for Collinsville.

Mercer Manager Earl Schardan will enter the "twoheader" with two heads of his own. Don Rains, brother, who is returning this week from summer school at Peru State College.

Jim Rains saw pitching action in 11 games for Mercer last year, mostly in relief, to gather a .54 record. He finished the season with a 3.10 earned-run average, seventh best in the league.

But Schardan holds the option of starting Jim Rains, Don Rains' brother, who is returning this week from summer school at Peru State College.

Computer 'Detective' On Display at Fair

The Data Processing Division of the Secretary of State's office has installed a working model of one of the electronic marvels of our age in the Drivers License Booth located in the north end of the Grandstand at the State Fair.

This machine referred to as a CRT (cathode ray tube) is a kind of mechanical "detective" which looks like a television set and is proving to be a popular attraction for the Fairgoers. "Anyone visiting the Drivers License Booth," said Secretary of State Paul Powell, "may activate this computer sleuth simply by giving his or her complete name, date of birth and sex, or drivers license number to the operator who will then feed the information into the CRT and in 15 seconds statistical data of the driver will appear on the screen." The information relayed by the CRT comes from a master tape file containing complete license information of 7,260,816 Illinois drivers that has been placed into an on-line storage device consisting of 350 million characters.

Dobrey Slough Plans Submitted

A tentative plan for flood control in the Dobrey Slough area of Nannod township was submitted to representatives of the East Side Levee and Sanitary district here yesterday afternoon by John Gullion, chief engineer of the Illinois Division of Waterways.

William "Mike" Ebersoldt of Venice, levee board member, and A.J. Kraemer, chief engineer of the levee district, said the plans will meet the need of drainage improvement in the area. Both approved the plans. Gullion said the plan provides for installation of a pipeline by the Division of Waterways at a cost of about $60,000, with the levee district to assume the cost of improving drainage ditches in the area. The pipeline would pick up drainage from Dobrey slough at the Alton & Southern tracks and carry it southward to natural drainage areas flowing eventually into Horseshoe Lake.

Three Children Hurt; 19 Crashes Occur in Area

Three children were struck by vehicles as a total of five persons were injured in 19 traffic accidents this week on Quad-City streets. Ten occurred in Granite City on one day. Shari Benson, five, of 1005 Kirkpatrick Homes, was injured while playing when she was struck by an auto driven by Gary Ensor, 2815 Warren avenue, at 6:15 p.m. Monday in an alley in the 1800 block of the housing project.

The girl was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment of abrasions to the right flank and multiple abrasions to the face and body. X-rays were taken.

James Doyle, 2½, was injured when an auto in which he was riding, driven by Don E. Doyle, 3027 Kirkpatrick Homes, collided with a car driven by Walter Grogan, 2201 State street, at 8:50 p.m. Monday at 2800 Namecki road. The Grogan auto ran out of gasoline and attempted to pull into a service station.

Truck, Bicycle Collide
Mary Jean Jones, seven years old, 923 Iowa street, Madison, suffered abrasions to both knees and was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital after her bicycle collided with a pickup truck at 11:50 a.m. Tuesday in a parking lot at 1620 Madison avenue, Madison.

The truck driver, Robert Smith, 2029a Illinois avenue, was backing from a parking place at the side of a building and did not see the bicycle.

Helen M. Wilson, 59, of 2321 Washington avenue, was injured when her auto struck the rear of another driven by Charles E. Harris, East St. Louis, at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday on Namecki road and Clark avenue. Harris was stopped in traffic and the accelerator of the Wilson auto apparently had stuck.

LEAVES FOR WEST AND A RETURN TO GERMANY

Mr. and Mrs. George Gott and daughters, 1639 Seventh street, have enjoyed the company of Mrs. Gott's mother, Mrs. Emma Klein, for the past two months. She left here yesterday; Mrs. Klein is from Neustadt, Germany, and also visited in this area three years ago.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

A reception was held in her honor by members of the Checkerboard Squares. Mrs. Gott's children are members of the square dance group.

She has met with a number of friends and was a guest at the United Methodist Church of Madison with the Gott family. Highlights of her trip included a trip on the Admiral, where her granddaughters, Beatrice, Marina, Sylvia and Brenda Lee, along with the Checkerboard Squares, entertained.

The granddaughters and Ellen Voegeli planned a surprise birthday party when Mrs. Klein observed her birthday at the Gott home. The girls decorated the table with an appropriate cloth and napkins and a decorated cake adorned the table. Mrs. Gott was a patient at St. Elizabeth Hospital at the time of the event and listened in on the telephone at her bedside at the group and Mr. Gott surprised Mrs. Klein. Gifts were presented and cake and ice cream were enjoyed.

Mrs. Klein left Wednesday for Fairfield, Calif., to visit with her daughter and son-in-law, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Jay Daugherty. She plans to spend one month in California and then return to Germany.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL

Mrs. Norma Eaves was hostess to the Lydia Bible class of the First Baptist Church of Madison in her home, 1639 Fourth street, Monday evening. Mrs. Eaves, president, presided over a business meeting, at which time plans were completed for an ice cream social to be held at the church Saturday evening. Members are to invite their families to the social.

The remainder of the evening was spent in an open discussion. Those taking part were Mrs.

Treva Williams, Mrs. Sue Jones, Mrs. Bonnie Bridges, Mrs. Doris Macklin, Mrs. Mary Clayton, Mrs. Doris Hargrave and daughter, Jennifer, and Mrs. Lucille Veatch, the class teacher. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

150 STUDENT BIBLE SCHOOL COMPLETED

Workers who served an enrollment of 150 boys and girls were Mrs. Harold Ratliff, principal; Harold Ratliff, secretary; Mrs. Norma Richardson, superintendent of the intermediate department, with Mrs. Ronnie Benner and Mrs. Vasta Williams as teachers.

Mrs. Delores Pinkley served as the pianist each evening. Mrs. Bonnie Bridges and her daughters, Kathy and Gail, and Mrs. Nellie Polotzek were on the kitchen committee, serving refreshments to all attending.

Phoebe Sunday school class members met Tuesday evening in the educational building of the First Baptist Church for a watermelon feast.

At the conclusion of the feast, the class president, Mrs. Nell Montgomery, conducted a business meeting. Mrs. Ruth Hannebrink reminded the members of a girl at the Carmi Baptist Children's Home who will be having a birthday shortly; she is preparing a box to be sent and asked the members to send cards.

Dr. Doudna to Retire As President of EIU

Dr. Quincy Doudna, president of Eastern Illinois University since 1956, has announced his retirement effective Sept. 1, 1971.

Doudna, only the third man to serve as president of Eastern since classes began in 1899, made the announcement at the summer commencement ceremony Thursday night.

Doudna said: "By this time next year I shall have completed 44 years of service in public education. Thirty-five of those years will have been in the administration of higher education, with 15 of them as president of Eastern Illinois University. Last winter the time had come, I felt, when I should consider whether I wanted another year as a university president, or an added year of retirement. I chose the latter."

Under regulations of the Board of Governors of State Colleges and Universities, mandatory retirement for Doudna because of age would not be until 1972.

Doudna said he advised the board of his intention to retire during an executive session in June. He said he requested the board to find a successor who would assume the presidency in September of 1971.

Doudna said he and Mrs. Doudna will continue to make their home in Charleston, and that they plan to "travel extensively."

Variety of Help for the Handicapped -- If they Know Where to Find It

A 16-year old boy, a letterman in three high school sports, lies paralyzed from the neck down, the result of a diving accident that severed his spinal cord.

He could remain bedridden for the rest of his life. Or he could, with rehabilitation and determination, complete his education and become employable.

There is more help today than ever before for the deaf, paralyzed, blind, crippled, mentally ill or retarded. Government, business and individuals have banded together in efforts to help the disabled—to help them achieve the same goals as the able-bodied.

It is estimated that 24 million people in the United States are handicapped. Of these, 18 million are physically disabled and almost six million are mentally retarded.

By 1980, the handicapped will number 27.2 million. There are many sources of help for the handicapped. Yet a vast number of the disabled are not receiving the care they need because they do not know what rehabilitation can do—or where to go for help.

Program in 50th Year
The State-Federal Vocational Rehabilitation program, celebrating its 50th anniversary this year, is available to anyone prevented from securing employment because of disability, whether physical or mental. Not a welfare program, it is a "help - the - handicapped - get-work" program. Most services are provided without charge.

The Vocational Rehabilitation program begins with medical treatment—followed by evaluation to determine if employment is possible. If it is, the program provides help in setting appropriate goals.

For many handicapped in adult life, it may mean learning a new trade or vocation. Job training and job placement are the next steps.

The large numbers of returning wounded from Vietnam are being rehabilitated through the Veterans Administration. In addition to medical care and vocational training, grants are available for purchase of specially equipped homes and cars for disabled veterans.

Goodwill Industries, Inc., with its 143 local agencies, is one of many private agencies working with government. Goodwill now trains people in one of 20 practical skills and then sends many of them out to other employment.

Superior Workers
The blind, with their keen sense of touch, make superior workers with small parts in the electronic industry.

Deaf persons have won praise as linotype, tabular and key-punch operators, as they are able to work unaffected by office or shop noise. Cerebral palsy victims have been trained to use precision hand tools, and paraplegics are working very productively on assembly lines.

As medical science has eradicated such crippling diseases as polio, private agencies have directed their efforts toward emotional adjustment—often a greater obstacle than physical adjustment.

The American Rehabilitation Foundation has set up a pre-vocational training center at the Kenny Institute to serve as a bridge between medical treatment and vocational training.

The Young Adult Institute in New York City provides social and emotional training for mentally retarded young adults to prepare them for vocational training.

Financial Gain to All
Rehabilitation and full employment pay great dividends. Successful employment has taken thousands of people off public assistance and has made them independent and self-supporting. Rehabilitated workers pay $7 in federal taxes alone for every $1 spent on their rehabilitation.

A good example is Max Rheinberger who, since 1952, as a result of polio, has been confined to a wheelchair.

There was doubt if he'd ever work again. However, using a cigarette holder between his teeth, he typed his assignments and completed a four-year accounting course in less than two years.

Today, he runs seven businesses in Duluth, all commercial firms in the fields of medical services and data processing. He is a member of the city council and is active in civic affairs.

Rheinberger has helped more than 250 other handicapped people find employment. His vocational rehabilitation services cost the state agency $1400. Today, he and his business pay substantially more than that in taxes each month.

Many of today's disabled would be employable if transportation systems and public buildings were designed to allow them to use wheelchairs.

The President's and Governors' Commission on Employment of the Handicapped are combining efforts with agencies to eradicate architectural barriers. An important gain was the recent passage of a bill to insure that any building being financed with federal funds is constructed to be accessible to the physically handicapped.

Last fall, the International Society for Rehabilitation of the Disabled adopted an official symbol designating facilities accessible to the physically handicapped and the aged.

Its wheelchair symbol, designed by a young girl in Sweden, is available to any building that meets strict requirements.

Not only must it have a ground level entrance or a ramp instead of steps, but doorways and restrooms wide enough for wheelchairs and access to elevators. Also strongly recommended are water fountains and telephones within reach of persons seated in wheelchairs.

Southwest State College in Marshall, Minn., is one of the nation's first four-year colleges built with the disabled in mind. Southwest is constructed so a handicapped student can move about the entire campus under his own power.

All rehabilitation services surveyed face the same three problems.

First, the great and ever-growing need for rehabilitation services is hampered by a lack of money. Federal and state money is supplemented by contributions of individuals, businesses and foundations, but the need for funds to expand facilities is huge.

About 500,000 disabled are added to the population each year. This is in addition to a backlog of almost four million who could be helped if facilities were available.

Second, the need for trained professionals to work with both the physically and mentally handicapped is staggering. In view of future needs, the recruitment of young people into rehabilitation professions is of immediate importance.

Third, common to all rehabilitation programs is public apathy. No rehabilitation is complete until employment is achieved.

The trend toward automation in industry has actually created more jobs for the handicapped. Service occupations are growing faster than any other single category of jobs in America. Such jobs are particularly well suited to the mentally retarded, who can perform routine tasks better than other workers.

The handicapped want to be recognized as individuals for their capabilities, not disabilities—Not coddled or fussed over.

They show the same human frailties common to all, but they generally have good work attitudes and their morale is high—perhaps because they find it difficult to get work and are grateful when they do.

State Told of Need for Water Pollution Fight

The Sanitation Division of the Illinois Department of Conservation has been asked to make "a tough appraisal of our entire drainage system" with an emphasis on priorities for flood relief and achieving an "end to frustrating delay" in a letter to the division by Louis Whitsett, town clerk of Nameoki township.

The letter followed reports in a recent meeting of the Nameoki town board by Whitsett and William Nichols who said they observed obvious evidence of pollution in Horseshoe Lake during an inspection trip by plane. At that time, Whitsett also criticized overflow from the Granite City stormwater ditch along Highway 162 into the yards of the Blast Furnace department of Granite City Steel Co.

In his letter to the Sanitation Division, Whitsett said:

"The city of Granite City has a drainage canal overflowing into the yard of the Blast Furnace division of Granite City Steel Co., after heavy rains, traveling at will through piles of nitrate acid and other chemicals and flowing directly into Horseshoe Lake, showing a redish tinted water from the air."

"The urgent need for developing comprehensive programs to fight pollution are accelerating. If the law is to have genuine deterrent effect on the pollution violator giving us immediate concern, we must make some drastic changes."

"The most simple and most obvious remedy is to lower the level of Horseshoe Lake, allowing more surface area for flash floods and for the 60,000,000 gallons of water per day transferred from the Mississippi river by Granite City Steel."

"I predict it would sharply reduce pollution by allowing the drainage channels to flow freely and by lowering the water table percolated throughout Nameoki Township and Granite City as a result of the high level of Horseshoe Lake."

"We need a tough appraisal of our entire drainage system, with an emphasis on proper priorities and an end to frustrating delays."

Auto Strikes Signal

An auto driven by William M. Kozvak, 3141 Fehling road, skidded into a traffic signal Monday at East 23rd street and Nameoki road.

Victor H. Koenig, director of the Granite City Office of Civil Defense. Standing is Mrs. Irene C. Mooshegan, disaster committee member and assistant personnel director of the hospital.

Monthly Disaster Drills Scheduled At Hospital Here

Victor H. Koenig, Granite City civil defense director, has met with officials of St. Elizabeth Hospital to review the role of the hospital in preparedness tests held in conjunction with the monthly activation of local tornado warning sirens. The sirens sound at 10:30 a.m. on the first Tuesday of each month.

Koenig expressed his appreciation of the hospital's continuing interest in the safety and well-being of the patients and employees. He reported satisfaction at knowing that—at such time as a disaster would strike this area—the hospital would be prepared to handle the situation.

Each hospital patient is notified the day prior to the forthcoming drill through the hospital's news bulletin, distributed daily to patients. The employees are alerted through daily "grapevine" communications.

Upon the city's activation of the sirens, the hospital automatically places the disaster program into effect.

State Constitution Has Sweeping Impact on Agriculture, Business

By TERRANCE RATHGEBER
Student Reporting Project, University of Illinois

Illinois farmers constitute less than 6% of the state's population, but their interest—and agriculture's—in the Constitutional Convention is enormous. Despite a low farm population and recent land diversification to non-agricultural uses, Illinois remains one of the most important agricultural states. The total value of its farm land in 1960 was exceeded only by that in California and Texas. Aside from the actual farmers, many others in the state have a vital interest in the future of agriculture. Agriculture today is essentially a dual industry—the farms on one hand and agribusiness on the other. Agribusiness consists of the service industries which keep agriculture alive—manufacturers and dealers of feed, seeds, fuel, chemicals, fertilizer and machinery, to name a few.

Farmers are deeply concerned with at least three major areas in a constitution: the tax system, local government and the shape of their representation. Those are really the basic issues for farmers. Probably the most volatile issue is the tax system. The present Revenue Code reflects a time when the economy was agricultural and property was a good indication of wealth and ability to pay.

When Illinois adopted its second constitution in 1848, the agricultural revolution was coming into full swing in Illinois. It rode in on the wheels of Cyrus McCormick's reaper—an invention which meant farmers were no longer limited to planning what they could harvest by hand with scythes. Illinois farmers were no longer frontiersmen living in dilapidated shacks, but true farmers.

The coming of the railroads in 1850 accentuated the progress the reaper had started by making it a mode of transportation for farm goods.

When the present constitution was written in 1870, the situation had changed very little. Illinois was an agricultural state, and the benefits of one large city, Chicago.

The 1870 Revenue Article says each person shall pay a tax in proportion to the value of his property and adds that it will be uniform as to all.

While the property tax is legally and theoretically on all property, in Illinois it has come, in practice, a tax on real estate.

Now, the property tax imposes a heavy burden on housing and on those businesses and farm operations which use large amounts of visible, easily assessed property.

Although half the wealth in Illinois is estimated to be in personal property, the property tax is collected on real property because much personal property is intangible. For instance, stocks and bonds, easily hidden from the assessor.

Thus the tax often bears little or no relation to the ability to pay. Two properties of equal value may pay different taxes, although one owner may be without income and the other may have a high income. A hundred years ago, when the tax was first levied, the fortune in untaxed intangibles. Professor Robert Spitzer, agricultural economics professor at the University of Illinois at Urbana specializing in "ag" politics, feels farmers are not against paying the property tax. If everyone paid on all his property as the Revenue Article states. Since most farmers don't pay, farmers feel they pay a disproportionate share. They are against the personal property tax as it is administered. Since there seems to be little way to improve the administration, they oppose it outright.

Spitzer also thinks most farmers would probably be willing to surrender to pay the real property tax since it can be easily administered, but only as long as there is uniform classification or no classification of real property. The Illinois Agricultural Association has worked hard to free the farm position on various issues and to mobilize the farm vote.

Since the classification of property for tax purposes would at a high rate of taxation on income-producing property than on non-income-producing property, the IAA opposes such a scheme.

The system now exists in Chicago and Cook county, where an apartment or home may be assessed at a lower valuation than similar business property. The IAA is willing to let Cook county continue under this system as long as it is not extended to Downstate.

Its position is: Classification of property represents nothing more than a preferential treatment of designated types of property—generally on political rather than economic considerations. An income tax, as adopted in 1960, taxes what people earn. In an urban industrial society it is more equitable to tax ability to pay than the property tax does.

Spitzer said that although the IAA favors a maximum limit on income tax, he does not think farmers are against an income tax.

He said farmers had counted on the income tax to at least partially replace the property tax. When that did not happen, they were disappointed.

Now, in Con-Con, they have been searching for relief from property taxes rather than pushing for an end to the income tax.

One other consideration in tax laws opens into the next issue: local government. If township government is retained and property taxes are modified, where will the financial support for local government come from?

Illinois has over 6300 local governments. They include counties, cities, villages, school districts, special districts like fire protection, library, sanitary and the like, and the farmers' pet—townships.

Each one constitutes a tax support. The total cost of local government functions is more than the cost of state government.

Over half the support for these units comes from the property tax, which is a large number of local units means a lot of inefficiency. Nevertheless, the IAA opposes the blanket elimination of township government. It does recommend improving local government by providing larger road and assessment districts.

IAA contends that the township form of government has long been popular in the Midwest and that it should be changed to the commission form of government only if the people vote for it.

The IAA position is an intermediate proposal in which many of the local government would be eliminated to increase efficiency and improve administration.

For instance, all of the units associated with health in a particular county—tuberculosis sanatoriums, mental hospitals, health districts and hospital districts—would be consolidated under a flexible bonding limit.

Even with increased efficiency under an improved local government system, financial support will be needed. If the property tax is abolished or modified, much of the present support would have to be replaced.

Under the present state income tax, one-twelfth of the state income tax goes to local government, but no local provision is made to extend it to the townships.

Spitzer explains away this contradiction. Since the state's interest in the local government is to control local government, it is not in the third area of concern—the shape of representation.

Illinois agriculture still remembers when farmers were in firm control of Illinois politics. Even in recent years, they have had disproportionate control over policies.

A hundred years ago, when the last constitution was written, agriculture was king and its interest was the state's interests. By 1900, the complexion of the state began to change. For the first time, the state's population was nearly evenly divided between rural and urban.

One does not willingly surrender power, so agriculture's reactions are hardly surprising. Spitzer says that the IAA's defended disproportionate representation for agricultural interests, but above all, one must remember that free society all elements must be represented.

An Illinois society dominated by a tiny agricultural minority is not equipped to handle the complex problems that have operated in this situation for the past few years under an antiquated constitution.

Because the IAA wants to see Illinois farmers retain as broad a power base as possible, it favors retaining cumulative voting and a bicameral legislature. Both systems tend to favor the farm minority.

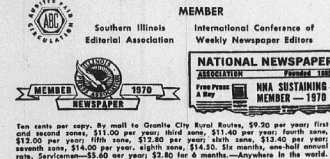

Although few true farmers were elected as Con-Con delegates, many of the Downstate members were supported in their campaigns by the IAA.

Downstate non-farm interests are probably tied closer to the farmer than are the industrial agriculture interests at the Con-Con. With this support, the farmer is not as much in the minority as you may feel he is.

New State Constitution Would Bring Gains, Has Real Chance to Be Approved by Voters

Two of the major questions regarding the 1970 Illinois Constitution have been: Will its recommendations be approved by the voters? And, if approved, will the new constitution be an improvement? A qualified "yes" to both is being voiced by some in the wake of the 116 delegates' completion of second reading of their handiwork.

No substantive amendments are contemplated during the third and final reading, expected to be carried out shortly after the present recess ends Aug. 27.

There is some concern that Chicago area Democrats may have gained their way in too many instances, but they certainly did not prevail on all issues they raised. And if they had been rejected at every point, the organization of Mayor Daley would have fought the end product, probably doing it.

We were sorry to see delegates abandon their plan to extend considerable home rule to municipalities of 10,000 or more population. However, they retained these provisions for cities of 25,000 or more people and also for counties which separate their executive and legislative functions by creating an elected chief executive officer.

Broader taxing, borrowing and regulating powers are proposed for cities and counties, although they could not adopt an income or occupation tax nor license for revenue without General Assembly approval; by a three-fifths vote in each house of the legislature, the Assembly could deny or limit certain expanded authority otherwise granted to municipalities and counties.

Even with these restrictions, the grant of increased local-level power—carrying with it advantages and also added citizen responsibilities to curb excesses—was expected to attract national attention. No one predicted the experiment would be entirely a bed of roses, but the experience of recent years has shown clearly that Illinois governing bodies have not done much more than that granted by their state's century-old constitution.

Other "Con-Con" revenue decisions of interest here include permitting counties of 200,000 or more residents to establish a local county to classify real estate for tax purposes; authorizing the exemption of such necessities as food, clothing, drugs and medical services; and empowering the state to sell revenue bonds by majority approval in each house. Particularly in the field of industrial development, Illinois badly needs more clear-cut bond authority.

The delegates have voted to submit, probably in December or January, a basic new constitution, plus possible variations to it on five matters.

The separate questions are to be: selection of all judges by the governor, based on a merit procedure; abolition of the death penalty;

Demand for Steel in 1970s Will Require Big Investment, Fuel Supply

By E. H. GOTT, Board Chairman, U.S. Steel Corporation

World steel production may approach one billion net tons by 1980. It will be up to steel technology in the world during the next decade to achieve the levels of production necessary to supply the increasing demand.

Steel output must grow more in the next ten years than it did in the past decade and a half. It will require larger amounts of iron ore, fluxes and fuels will be required, and it will be necessary to finance, design and install the production and finishing facilities for the steel itself.

To anticipate this ten-year increase of more than 50% in annual production over the volume of steel produced in the world last year, these significant, accompanying factors should be considered.

Financing: The total investment may reach $200 billion, even if inflationary forces can be checked. Further amounts will be needed for new steel-making production and supporting facilities.

As equipment and processes become more complex, the facility costs will rise at least proportionately.

Besides the original, added cost, major facilities being installed today generally take a total of five years from planning to break-even status and the producer must absorb substantial costs, without any offsetting revenues.

Technological progress: The pace is expected to continue and accelerate. In even a few years, from enriched raw materials, the steel-making process will require a variety of control devices, research and technology are setting the stage reduction of the voting age to 18; protection of the rights of mentally and physically handicapped persons; and elimination of Illinois House three-member districts and cumulative voting.

These and other aspects of the potential new constitution are of extreme importance to all Quad-Cityans and Illinoisans. Public study and discussion during the fall will clarify the issues, but at the moment the outlook for constitutional reform appears to be highly promising.

Road Fund Freeze Proved It Is No Way to Run a Government or a Highway Program

Nearly 26 months after the federally-ordered Madison-St. Clair counties highway construction fund cutoff went into effect July 1, 1968, the thaw set in this week. Road contracts totaling $21 million were awarded Aug. 14; actual construction work—and the keys to the thaw, minority job training—began Aug. 17. Since most pending road projects will not be completed this year and many will not even get started before the arrival of winter weather, the harm caused by the dollar freeze is even more extensive than the 26-month span would indicate.

It was a devastating and unjustified cessation of a vital activity—the building, preservation and improvement of important highways serving one of the nation's chief metropolitan areas and situated in a growing bi-county region of a half-million people.

Criticism directed at the long construction shutdowns has related to the means, not the objective. Broadening of the base of road crew recruitment has met with widespread approval, but it could have been accomplished in other ways and is being achieved elsewhere in the United States without resort to an approach that punishes everyone—the innocent, the guilty and even those who are not even indirectly adversely affected could do nothing about hiring policies themselves; they could only sit and wait and worry.

The freeze on highway contracts utilizing federal money was unprecedented in the United States, and ought to remain unique.

If there is any lesson to be derived from the episode, it is that there is no way to run a government, or a highway program. The mained, the property damage and the economic shackles stemming from grossly inadequate roads in many parts of the Madison-St. Clair counties area provide mute, sobering evidence of the faultiness of the procedure.

Quad-Cities Had Key Role in Making One-Year Phenomenon into a Permanent Music Festival

Even before formal action occurs to authorize a third Midwest River Festival summer concert season, thoughts soar ahead, beyond 1971 and well into the new decade. It seems clear, in retrospect, that the "pro and con" deliberations in 1970 were not a dead-end conference between a one-year phenomenon and a program that may well continue over a long period of years.

Silhouette: Chancellor John Rendleman and two Granite Cityans, Ernest A. Karandjef and Dr. Albert Trani, played key roles in the effort to perpetuate the festival. The festival is the host of other interested citizens ranging up to and including Governor Richard B. Ogilvie. SIU Board Vice-Chairman Harold R. Fischer of Granite City also was prominent among those giving valuable support to the festival.

Their wisdom was borne out: the River Festival did have the potential for public support and it lived up to it in great fashion this summer.

Mighty oaks from small acorns grow, and a permanent regional attraction of national significance seems likely to result from a bit of wit, skill, and above-and-beyond-the-call-of-duty citizen action this spring.

The Quad-Cities not only dominate the SIU-SW carnival circuit, they have a volunteer leadership of high quality for both the educational programs and community service endeavors of the university.

Challenge—Keeping Young People's Energy, Idealism in 'Mainstream'

(American Association for the Advancement of Science)

Does psychology have anything to say about student unrest? Leon Eisenberg, chief of psychiatry at Massachusetts General Hospital, says in "Science" that he is uncertain. But Dr. Eisenberg is careful to point out that his reluctance to give a positive answer stems from the role the public commonly it ascribes to the psychiatrist.

When a psychiatrist speaks, he is often heard as though his comments are based solely on his knowledge of the mentally ill; hence, remarks on student unrest are likely to be taken to mean that student unrest is a manifestation of illness—and that is just what Dr. Eisenberg says it is not.

To label unrest as "sick" is no more than a sophisticated version of the rage of adults at the effrontery of the child. Yet students pointed out in the bible that the Emperor had no clothes on. In adult society, adult fury stems from the very accuracy of charges the young lodge against those who are older.

This is not to say that correctness of some of the accusations warrants abrupt surrender by our generation; the young have no greater wisdom than we possess, and a good deal less practicality.

But it is to say that resorting to harsh punishment will perpetuate angry rebellion and prevent any meaningful change," he writes.

The danger, says Dr. Eisenberg, is that students will see the anarchy of the young, the recklessness of some in threatening the university (the last remaining platform for rational dissent), their isolation from the mainstream of the community—all combine to offer repressionists a prime and long-sought opportunity to smash the university in the name of protecting it.

"Our difficult task is to defend the legitimacy of student criticism at the same time that we find a way to make students aware that more is needed than sloganeering," Dr. Eisenberg comments.

"What must be combated among students is the romantic movement to substitute feeling for fact. If it is to be more than a sophisticated version of the rage of adults at the effrontery of the child, it must be based on the core of the present-day unrest.

The energy, idealism and intelligence of our generation; the prime resources of each nation; if these resources are to be lost, it is in the hands of the young. In the mainstream of national life, "Youth is impatient—as it should be—with excuses for perpetuating evil. In the excesses of its zeal, it sometimes abandons reason. But who does not see his mind over certain things, has no mind to lose."

Motorists Held Accountable for Financial Loss from Collisions

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Associations)

What does the law say about the motorist who fails to carry automobile liability insurance? A person may own and operate a motor vehicle in Illinois without insuring himself against his liability for damages in an accident, but if an accident happens, the law does make certain demands upon him under penalty of the loss of his license.

By law, the uninsured driver who is involved in an accident resulting in property damage of $250 or more, or the injury of any person, must provide proof of financial responsibility to the State Department of Public Works and Buildings that he is a financially responsible person.

If he fails to provide this proof, his license will be suspended and the license plates of his car may be seized.

Here is what the law exacts by way of proof of financial responsibility on the part of an uninsured motorist who has an accident:

1) He must deposit cash or a surety bond with the state in an amount required to cover his possible liability for damages resulting from the accident.

This requirement is waived only if the uninsured motorist is insured with an expenditure of at least $100,000 for injury or death of one person; $200,000 for injury or death of two or more persons; and $100,000 for property damage.

Annual premiums for auto insurance depend upon the age of the insured, his record as a driver, the extent and nature of his use of the car, his locality and other factors.

Major increases in the limits of a person's insurance, to bring it up to recommended levels, usually can be obtained for relatively small increases in the insurance premium.

A certificate verifying that insurance in the required amounts has been obtained must be supplied by the insuring company.

State DeMolays Salute New Sweetheart -- Peggy Carson

The eyes of the entire Illinois realm of the Order of DeMolay are focused on Granite City this week, following the August 14-16 state convocation, held at Arlington Heights, Ill.

Miss Peggy Carson, James Stuart chapter and Southern Illinois sweetheart, was elected as DeMolay sweetheart for the state at the order's 42nd annual convocation. The scene was the Arlington Park Towers Hotel.

Miss Vicki Coratt of the L. L. Lockhart chapter, Danville, was first runner-up and Miss Pam Pobanz of the S. E. Long chapter, East Moline, was second runner-up.

Twenty-one DeMolay chapters throughout the state had entered their chapter sweethearts. The crowning was to take place at the grand ball Saturday night but at the time of the crowning it was announced there was an unprecedented three-way tie for state sweetheart honors.

Balloting was conducted limited to the three, following the grand ball.

Breakfast, Crowning
The crowning of Miss Carson as state sweetheart took place at the grand breakfast Sunday morning.

She was crowned by Miss Laura Bigler of Carbonale, the reigning state sweetheart. Miss Carson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carson, 2147 Lee avenue. Peggy's mother, Delores, accompanied her to the convocation as chaperone.

The three-day convocation started with a business session at 1 p.m. Friday with Douglas Van Houser, state counselor, presiding.

A majority service, a pie eating contest, a swim party, swimming competition, presentation of the sweethearts in swimsuits, a knighthood degree conducted by the Black Hawk Priory of Peoria and a late snack hour completed the busy first day's activities.

The next day's events including morning and afternoon business sessions, golf, bowling and arm wrestling competition, plus election of officers, a grand banquet and a Coronation ball.

State Office for Hileman
Charles "Chuck" Hileman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hileman, 2330 Lynch avenue, was installed as state senior counselor. He is a past master counselor here, a representative DeMolay and a Chevalier from the local chapter.

Steve Hileman, Chuck's brother and the chapter's current master counselor, nominated Hileman for state senior counselor and a past jurisdictional master counselor, southern jurisdiction. Bruce Hawkins, the chapter's junior counselor, won the arm wrestling competition in the 175-210-pound class.

Clinton Long, most worshipful master of the Grand Lodge of Masons of Illinois, was the honored guest at the grand banquet. Dr. Leon Munson of Oklahoma State University was guest speaker.

The coronation ball, with music by "No. 7 Bigly Street," was followed by a rock dance to complete the evening.

Job's Daughters, Bethel and Rainbow Girl Assembly members from the greater Chicago area were guests for the coronation ball and rock dance.

The final business session took place at the breakfast Sunday morning. A worship service by Rev. Raymond Kirk preceded the session, and the crowning of Miss Carson followed.

At the installation of officers, conducted by Eric Trumble of Moline, Hileman was installed as senior counselor, Ronald Fulerville of East Moline as state master counselor and Dan Lusher as state junior counselor.

Also installed were 14 district governors and seven state coordinators. Officers of the Knights Templar served as an honor guard for the new state master councilor.

Grand Master Attends
The grand breakfast was honored by an unscheduled official visit from Walter O. Helwig of Wauwatosa, Wis., Grand Master of the International Supreme Council, Order of DeMolay.

He installed Edward C. Bieser of Collinsville as a deputy of the International Supreme Council and as the new executive officer for the jurisdiction of Illinois from the Supreme Council. Bieser has long been active in DeMolay, serving with distinction as chapter advisor of the Ascalon chapter, Collinsville, and as director of DeMolay for southern Illinois. He has an executive position with the Monsanto Co.

Bieser replaces G. Wilbur Bell of Chanderville, Ill., who resigned because of his duties of General Grand Master of the Grand Encampment of Knights Templar of the United States of America.

Beil will be officially installed as the Knight Templar Grand Master in Denver, Colo., on Aug. 27.

Next Convocation in Peoria
Next year's Illinois DeMolay convocation will be held in Peoria at Hotel Pure Marquette Aug. 15-17.

4 Building Projects Set for 2 Campuses

The first permanent academic building at Southern Illinois University's Vocational - Technical Institute is among four SIU construction projects cleared for bids by the Illinois Building Authority.

University Architect Charles Pulley said the Bureau of the Budget has confirmed releases by Gov. Richard Ogilvie that pave the way for the IBA to seek bids on the classroom - office building at VTI; stage 1 of the humanities - social building on the Carbondale campus; and the physical educational building and stage 11 of the communications building at the Southwestern campus.

Pulley said a pre-bid conference with project architects was held Monday at the building authority's Chicago offices.

The VTI building, with a prime construction budget estimate of $2.2 million, will replace frame structures that are huddlers from the World War II Illinois ordnance plant east of Carverville. SIU leased the site in 1952 and acquired it in 1965.

Classrooms and offices for foreign languages, history, philosophy, sociology, and government are included in the estimated $6.5 million first stage of the humanities - social sciences building at Carbondale.

The Physical Education Building at the Southwestern Campus is estimated at $3.5 million including a $916,667 grant through the federal Higher Education Facilities Act.

A federal grant of $819,633 is included in the $3.4 million estimated for the second stage of the communications building here. Main feature of the addition will be a 1200-seat theater.

Two from GC Designated For Young Women Honors

Two Granite City residents have been selected as Outstanding Young Women of America for 1970 and will appear in the annual biographical compilation listing the same title.

They are Miss Diane Elena Nocheff, 2948 Grand avenue, and Mrs. Catherine Elizabeth Plautz French, 2250 Cleveland Blvd.

The two are now in competition for the title of Illinois Outstanding Women of the Year.

Now in its sixth year, the program is designed to recognize the abilities of women between the ages of 21 and 35. They have been honored for their achievements in the community, profession and country.

The program was conceived by the leaders of the nation's major women's organizations. Each year more than 6000 young women are nominated by women's organizations, college alumni associations and churches.

Guidelines for selection include unselfish service to others, charitable activities, community service and civic and professional recognition.

Swiss Team at Workshop On Handicapped

A workshop on "Educational Rhythmic for Mentally and Physically Handicapped Children" conducted by Ferris and Jenet Robins of Zurich, Switzerland, is being held in the Community Building of the Warren G. Murray Children's Center, Centralia, it was announced by State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Ray Page.

The workshop will be held through Aug. 28. It is sponsored by the Instructional Materials Center for Handicapped Children and Youth in cooperation with Southern Illinois University and the Warren G. Murray Children's Center.

The first five-day phase of the workshop has been designed for multidisciplinary personnel responsible for educational and other direct services to handicapped children including parents, educators, professional and nonprofessional personnel in public schools and institutions or community-based agencies.

The second phase of the workshop is more comprehensive and detailed and will include speakers from other areas allied with special education as well as actual work with handicapped students. The objective of this second phase is to inspire and develop a nucleus of persons knowledgeable in the "Educational Rhythmic" techniques who will be able to develop and conduct regional courses on their own by following the pattern devised by the Robins. University credit may be attained by qualified graduate or undergraduate students.

Through the cooperation of the Illinois Department of Mental Health, children participating in the workshop demonstrations are being drawn from the Warren G. Murray Children's Center. The children were not required to undergo any previous preparation or evaluation by the Robins' team.

Ferris and Jenet Robins, creators of the educational rhythmic technique, are internationally known for their work with handicapped children. This is the third time the famous Swiss team has been brought here by the Instructional Materials Center due to popular demand of special educators in Illinois.

In addition, he serves as cross-country coach and is involved in community recreation and public affairs programs.

Enrollment at SIU Continuing to Grow
 New student admissions for the fall term at Southern Illinois University's Carbondale campus are running about 1100 ahead of the same period last year.

Admissions Director Jerre Pfaff said 10,625 new freshmen, transfer students and graduate students had been admitted through the first week of August.

The figure represents only students who have been accepted for admission, not those who have actually registered for the fall term. Advance registration for new students ends Aug. 24. Those who have not enrolled by that time may register Sept. 18 and 19, the weekend before fall classes begin on the night of Sept. 22.

Experience the past few years indicates that from slightly more than half to 40% of students who are accepted for admission do not follow up with registration.

Pfaff said current admissions figures include 6769 new freshmen, 2693 transfers from other schools and 1161 graduate students. All academic units show an increase except the School of Business.

This fall's freshman-sophomore class enrollment on the SIU-Carbondale campus will set a precedent. The Illinois Board of Higher Education has required the state's senior institutions to freeze their underclass enrollments henceforth at the 1970 fall figure.

SIU-SW, although not affected by the lower division freeze this year, has nevertheless decided to put a 13,700 ceiling on total fall enrollment (12,132 students attended at the Southwest campus last year).

No overall enrollment ceiling has been announced for the Carbondale campus, where 22,002 students were in residence last fall.

Campus residence halls will open Sept. 18 and a three-day orientation schedule for new students will begin Sept. 20.

July Domestic Steel Output at Five-Month Low

Plant vacations and other seasonal factors helped drop July domestic steel production to its lowest level in five months, according to American Iron and Steel Institute.

AISI's preliminary figures show that U.S. mills turned out 10,782,000 tons of steel during the month — the lowest level since February, and well below June's output of 11,323,000 tons. In July, 1969, domestic mills poured 11,385,000 tons.

The basic oxygen furnace continued to pad its production lead over the open hearth during July of this year, the institute's figures disclosed.

BOFs accounted for 5,219,000 tons of the July total, compared with open hearth output of 5,563,000 tons, and electric furnace production of 1,614,000 tons.

Through the first seven months, U.S. mills produced 78,702,000 tons of steel, 36,381,000 tons by the BOF process, 30,300,000 tons in open hearths, and 12,021,000 tons by electric furnaces.

This compares with a seven month, 1968, output of 82,073,000 tons. Of this, 37,201,000 tons came from open hearths, 33,563,000 tons from BOFs, and 11,309,000 tons from electric furnaces.

AISA's steelmaking index, based on average production during the 1957-1959 period as 100, stood at 130.8 for July, and 129.5 for the first seven months of 1970, versus a July, 1969, index of 137.8, and a seven months, 1969 index of 145.5.

Aviation in Agriculture Field Day is Tomorrow

"Aviation in Agriculture" will be the topic for Field Day 1970, to be held from 3 to 7 p.m. tomorrow at the Spirit of St. Louis Airport. The event is being sponsored by the Agriculture Club of St. Louis, an affiliate of the Chamber of Commerce of Metropolitan St. Louis.

This marks the first time for this type of event in metropolitan St. Louis, according to club president George L. Zeis, vice president of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of St. Louis.

The program will feature flying static displays of agricultural aviation equipment; exhibits by major air carriers and agricultural firms; air tours of agricultural points of interest, and concludes with a bar-b-que dinner.

Union Says Depot Consistently Bypassed It on Inactivation

Filing of a complaint with the U.S. Department of Labor against the Army and the Granite City Army Depot Aug. 15 followed a summer-long series of efforts by Operating Engineers Local 1498 to reverse many of the Depot inactivation procedures.

A review of events by Tim Burns of Caseyville, business manager of the local, this week showed that the union takes sharp exception to policies under which, it is alleged the local Army Depot has dealt with its employees primarily as individuals rather than as Local 1498 members.

"Either on their own or by direction of their superiors, they have been handling the inactivation as they see fit—and not in accordance with Executive Order 11491," Burns contends.

The executive order, issued by President Nixon Oct. 29, 1969, became effective Jan. 1, 1970.

Inactivation plans to be effective by July 1971, were disclosed here and in Washington March 4, 1970.

In a July 15 letter to the Depot commandant, Burns asserted that the Depot management "has engaged in and is engaging in violations of Section 110(a), Subsections (1), (5 and 6) of Executive Order 11491."

He forwarded a report of his investigation of the alleged violations, and asked for a written reply by July 24 on any objections to or disagreements with the report.

Collective Bargaining Pact Noting that the local represents 710 Depot workers under the union business manager advised that the Depot withdrew any action or notice of action closing the local base until the union has been given opportunity to consult, confer and negotiate with the Depot as to the closing decision.

He also asked for notice that the Depot will negotiate on all issues relating to working conditions of employees who are members of Local 1498 prior to the Depot taking action or announcing changed conditions.

Burns called for notification to union representatives on individual employee negotiations, permitting them to be present if they so desire; provision of copies of all individual contracts solicited from employees by the Depot management on March 6, 1970, and afterward; and posting of a notice advising employees of such Depot cooperation.

On April 21, the Department of the Army advised Leo B. Chinski, international vice-president, that management had held meetings with individual employees March 30 explaining the situation and rendering a further hearing of "no useful purpose."

After Col. Dickson addressed a Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce board meeting June 2 regarding the closing, the union again asked for a meeting "to obtain full details of the closing."

At a June 15 meeting, the Depot was asked to say in writing "what employment action would result due to the closing." A Depot officer agreed to issue a statement after informing individual employees via the Granite, and to verbally relate the June 2 report to the Chamber to Local 1498.

Travel Contracts Individual interviews with employees allegedly continued, with some offered different jobs, working conditions and pay but no union representative present. They also were given individual contracts to sign in regard to travel pay and job relocation.

It is contended that some were misled "by the fine print and legal interpretation of the individual contracts."

"The lack of union representation in such individual negotiations... has caused serious hardship to employees," some of whom were later told they must pay back travel funds, it is contended.

When an effort was made July 9 to obtain a copy of an individual contract obtained from an employee, Ubee Sherman, the Depot refused, it is alleged. Burns was able to obtain it the following day, however, he noted.

Want Union Agent Present The business manager says that the agreement between the Depot and Operating Engineers provides that the union shall be given opportunity to be represented at discussions between management and employees over such things as personnel policies "and other matters affecting general working conditions."

He says it further requires management to meet during the first week of each month and at other times necessary to advise the union of matters affecting working conditions, and to keep the union advised of plans and policies affecting employment.

Burns concludes, "At all times involved in the closing of the Depot, management has apparently gone to great effort to notify individual employees, the Chamber of Commerce and the public at large about action taken affecting the employment prior to giving any notice to the union."

"At no time did management notify, consult, confer or negotiate with the union as the collective bargaining representative prior to any decision shutting down the Depot."

War II Vintage Air Show, Races At Civic Airport

Fighter and bomber aircraft of world war II will be on display and flown in formations during the St. Louis Air Races and World War II Airshow on Sunday, Sept. 6, and Labor Day, Sept. 7.

The two-day event will be staged at the Civic Memorial Airport on Route 111 near Beetham. Gates will open to the public at 9 a.m. each day.

Champion aerobatic pilot Bob Hoover will perform maneuvers in a P-51 Shrike Commander. Rides in a DC-3 will be available to spectators.

A T-4 tournament will be held both days starting at 1:30 p.m. About 40 pilots from throughout the country will compete in the tournament, which includes pylons, racing, and a 2 1/2-mile course.

Most types of combat aircraft flown during world war II will be exhibited, with pilots at each airplane to explain its features to spectators.

The aircraft will include a B-17, B-26, B-28, Bearcat, P-51, P-38, P-40, A-26, Thunderbolt, PBV Catalina, F4F Wildcat, TBM Avenger Torpedo Bomber, Corsair, F6F Hellcat, Messerschmitt-108, a British Spitfire and a simulated Japanese Val.

Concluding the program daily will be a "super gaggle" in which all aircraft will swarm into formation and fly around the St. Louis metropolitan area.

St. Louis and Veterans' Day will be observed on Sun., Sept. 6, and Alton Homecoming the following day.

Tickets for the air races and show may be purchased at Walston Aviation, Inc., at the Civic Memorial Airport. Tickets are $3 for adults and $1 for children. Free parking is to be provided.

Judge Selection Made A Separate Decision

Completing second reading of its proposed new document, the Illinois Constitutional Convention has agreed to submit as separate ballot issues such topics as cumulative state representative voting, and appointment of judges rather than election.

It was decided to designate an 8-5 ratio between corporate and individual income taxes; allow the legislature to aid public transportation with public funds; and eliminate a referendum requirement on banking legislation.

Plans call for third and final reading to be completed within two or three days after "Con Con" reconvenes Aug. 27.

Solomon, Owens to New Posts at Laclede Steel

Russell C. Solomon of Granite City has been appointed superintendent-rolling mills and warehouse at the Alton plant of Laclede Steel Co. to succeed Robert L. Owens who has been named general superintendent-primary mills.

Owens served as rolling mills superintendent and Solomon as Owens' assistant prior to their promotions announced Friday by Quentin D. Hopkins, vice-president of operations.

Solomon joined Laclede Steel Co., Jan. 2, 1968.

A graduate of the University of Missouri-Rolla 62, Solomon holds a B.S. in Metallurgical Engineering and had spent five years with Republic Steel Corp., South Chicago Works, before his employment at Laclede.

Owens will be responsible for operations of Laclede's electric melt shop, continuous casting, blooming mill and billet yard at Alton. He had been serving as superintendent of the rolling mills and warehouse there since 1963.

A native of Alton, he attended Alton high school, served in the Navy and graduated from the University of Missouri-Rolla in 1960 as a plant metallurgist. He was assistant chief metallurgist until 1960, when he was assigned to the rolling mills as assistant to the superintendent.

A graduate of the Southern Illinois University middle management and advanced management programs, Owens is a member of the American Society for Metals and is a director of the National Association of Iron and Steel Engineers.

Don't Cut Golf Ball; It Can Be Dangerous

Don't let children play or experiment with golf balls; the result just could be a severe eye injury.

That's the word from the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, which has received a number of reports of eye injuries caused by golf balls exploding when children cut them open to "see what's inside."

The danger lies in the ball's liquid core, which is under pressure of up to 2000 pounds per square inch and can easily explode if pierced or cut into. An additional hazard exists from the chemicals which are used to make up the cores of several brands of golf balls. The substance used for ball cores varies with the manufacturer, and the list of possible ingredients, according to information received by the Society, includes sulfuric acid, barium salts, zinc sulfide, silicone, gelatin, corn syrup, ethylene glycol, lead oxide paste, mineral oil, sodium hydroxide, castor oil and water.

County Schedules Bidding on Park Lot, Other Jobs

Construction of a new parking lot for the courthouse annex in Edwardsville and repairs to walks in the courtroom area on the third floor of the courthouse are among projects for which bids are being called this month.

The courthouse committee is to receive sealed bids on the parking lot construction at the County Auditor John Kravak on 10 a.m. Aug. 28. All bids must be accompanied by cashier's check or draft for 10% of the bond and a performance bond for 100% of the contract amount.

Bids also are to be accepted until 10 a.m. Aug. 28 on repairs to court room walks on the third floor of the courthouse. Specifications are on file with the county auditor.

The county board's nursing home committee has called for bids for rewiring the county nursing home at Edwardsville. Bids will be accepted on this project until 9:30 a.m. next Monday.

Bids also have been called for 9:30 a.m. Aug. 28 by the printing and town accounts committee for printing Madison county school directories in accordance with specifications available from Superintendent of the Educational Region Wilbur Trimpe.

KC Council Schedules Program of Events

Tri-Cities Knights of Columbus Council 1098 met last week to plan future events and discuss donations to various organizations.

Grand Knight John Korsch conducted the meeting and Rev. Lawrence Mattingly acted as chaplain in the absence of Rev. Sylvester Micek, who is on vacation.

Jack Trittschuh, Catholic Activity chairman, announced the Council will hold a Communion Breakfast at St. Mary's Catholic Church at 8 a.m. Aug. 30.

Six new members have joined the organization, according to a report submitted by Membership Chairman Steve Saltschik. Fred Trittschuh, sports chairman, told the group that the Council softball team had participated in a softball tournament at Breese, Ill.

Plans were made to donate $50 for the purchase of a Mobile Meals oven to be used for the benefit of elderly people, and a donation of $25 was made to the Catholic Children's Home for its annual boat excursion.

The Council also will have a bid at the United Fun Fair and is to purchase 100 tickets. A donation was made to the Catholic Literature Fund to be used at the Illinois State Fair.

Korsch announced the Madison County Chapter, K of C, will hold its meeting in Granite City on Oct. 21.

After the meeting refreshments were served by Dave Cruise.

Hunting Permits for Fowl Available After Sept. 1

Applications for permits to hunt ducks, Canada geese and pheasants on hunting grounds managed by the Illinois Department of Conservation may be submitted beginning Tuesday, Sept. 1. Ed Fitzgerald, supervisor of public hunting areas, announced today.

"Only one permit for ducks, one permit for Canada geese, and one permit for pheasants will be issued to any one individual," Fitzgerald said.

Seven pheasant hunting areas are managed by the Department of Conservation. They are: Chain O'Lakes, near Fox Lake; Des Plaines, near Wilmington; Iroquois County, near Beaver; Green River, near Ohio, Ill.; Shelby County, near Cowden; Richland County, at Calhoun; Carlyle Lake, on the west side of the lake north of Carlyle.

for hunting Nov. 14 through Dec. 6.

The two goose hunting areas are: Union County, south of Ware; Horseshoe Lake, West of Cairo near Olive Branch.

May Peat Rice Lake

"The duck hunting area at Rice Lake may not be open this year," Fitzgerald said. "This will depend on the weather, amount of water and other factors. We will accept applications for Rice Lake permits, however, and they will be kept on file until we find out what is in store for us this fall. If we can hunt Rice Lake, we will issue the permits."

Completed applications received before Sept. 1 will be returned, Fitzgerald said.

"We want to be as fair as possible to all hunters," he explained. "So we are going to send back applications that are in file. These areas will be open after Sept. 1. This will allow an equal chance for all hunters."

Stressing that correct information on applications is important, he continued:

"We must have the following information on each application: The hunter's name and address, the area desired, the date desired and an alternate date. Each individual should check his applications very carefully. If proper information has not been enclosed, the application will be returned."

To Limit Permits

"If an area quota is filled, we cannot issue any more permits for it. This delay could cause a hunter to lose the area that he might want. In the interest of safety we can only allow so many hunters in an area."

"We issue 'Public Hunting Grounds' daily usage stamps in each of our permit areas. The daily usage stamp fee is $5 for pheasant and goose areas and $3 for duck areas. The hunter pays the fee when he checks in.

"Each hunter must have a valid hunting license in his possession when he checks in. A current migratory waterfowl hunting stamp is necessary on duck and goose hunting areas for hunters 16 years old or older."

SIU Library Lists 1 1/2 Million Volumes

It took Southern Illinois University 99 years to build its library here up to one million volumes. Now in the space of only two years another quarter-million-plus have been added, for a total 1,270,534 as of June 30.

During the 1969-70 fiscal year, which ended June 30, the Morris Library on the Carbondale campus added 136,698 volumes to its shelves, "the largest number of acquisitions in a single year that we've had," according to Ferris S. Randall, director.

The preceding year, 129,681 volumes were added, Randall said, making a two-year total of 266,380.

Much of the new materials—about 31,000 items—were acquired for the new undergraduate library to be opened late this fall, Randall said. Another substantial segment consisted of back files of scientific journals to support the new medical school to open in the fall of 1971.

The university, chartered in 1869, acquired its millionth volume for the Carbondale campus library in 1968.

St. Teresa's to Open With New Look Program

St. Teresa Academy will open its 1970-1971 school term, after three years of preparation and experimentation, on a full modular schedule with a full gamut of class sizes, course offerings, adaptations of curriculum and individualized approaches which have already actively involved its teachers and a number of its 380 students long before Aug. 31, the first day of actual classes.

In June of this year Dr. Deane Wiew, head of the department of education at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, through Coordinator Don Keefe of the same department, made available a two-week credit course at St. Teresa Academy to finalize faculty preparation for the bold new direction of the academy.

At every step of the change to the new-type high school, SIU-SW faculty have been on hand with expertise, interest and encouragement, according to Sister Mary Simpson, ASC, principal.

During the summer of 1970, a core of teachers led by Sister Carol Werner, ASC, and Sister Frances Newton, ASC, hand-scheduled the twenty-one-day to accommodate many innovations too subtle for IBM programming in its present state.

Such innovations include: quarter courses (physical education and English, the latter offering an array of some 35 nine-week courses); time-block courses (the religion department's innovative procedure); completely individualized instruction (home economics, business education); room for an independent rate of progress according to time and ability (mathematics, some history courses); and variety of class-size—large group, small group, and seminar (all department). Some of these courses, such as physical ed's swimming, bowling, and jogging, are off-campus—another complication for the schedulers.

While the hand-scheduling was in progress, other faculty members were being consulted in the rewriting of faculty and student handbooks to fit the new situation in which student is on independent study time from 20% to 40% of the day.

The reason for leaving so much of the day for independent study, with teachers available if needed, is to develop student motivation and special interests from inner desire for learning rather than through a set schedule of hard-and-fast class hours for each subject daily, grinding out credits with what sometimes is slight correlation with personal growth in the subject.

Student Council officers were asked to provide student review of the new handbook, still in manuscript form, so that the "educational partnership" of student and teacher might be a reality, not merely a verbalization of the school's philosophy.

All teachers will be returning to St. Teresa during the week of Aug. 24, with the first event scheduled that of the religion department's workshop on Aug. 24 and 25, to inaugurate their new time-block program, formulated during the second semester of last year.

The entire STA faculty will participate in a second two-day workshop Aug. 26 to 27, high on the agenda is the task of finalizing and launching the new form of government in which a decision-making body called a Senate, composed of five members including the school principal, will work along with the corporation board of the Sisters Adorers of the Blood of Christ and the school's lay-board in directing the school.

Aug. 28 will be a recreational day together for the entire St. Teresa faculty, a part of the making of a working community of the kind the new type of secondary education demands. The faculty who will be sharing this day includes 25 Sisters Adorers of the Blood of Christ, 2 priests, 17 laywomen, and 11 laymen.

New faculty for 1970-1971 include: Sister Dorothy Marie Dietz, ASC, sewing; Sister Carol Marie Lewis, ASC, social work and counseling; Sister Rosalie Novoselac, ASC, English; Sister Virginia Ellen Seward, ASC, social studies; Sister Elizabeth Vogt, ASC, library and mathematics; Sister M. Joga Weissler, assistant treasurer; Miss Barbara Brown (STA '68), mathematics; Paul Carrico, dean of students; Charles Evans, counselor; Mrs. Evelyn Fields, tape room supervisor; James Miller, communications and counseling; Miss Alberta Pear, counselor; Miss Diane Weil, business education.

Leaving St. Teresa's are Terry Atchley, who will teach in Aviston; Dennis Smith, who will continue his Ph.D. studies; Sister Lilliosa Haas, ASC, who will teach adult courses in cooperative (speed) reading and supervise the sewing room at the Provincial House of the Sisters Adorers of the Blood of Christ, Ruma, Ill.; Sister Marie Clare Beecher, ASC, who has already been taken up her duties as publicity director for the province of Ruma and will also be based in Ruma; and Sister Celine Laurent, who is doing graduate work in library science at Rosary College, River Forest, Ill.

The complete faculty and secretariate for 1970-71 include: Sister Mary Simpson, ASC, principal; Sister Lucille Watering, ASC, building supervisor; Paul Carrico, dean of students; and Philip Atkins, Mary Ann Bondechi, Barbara Brown, Thomas Byron, Linda Calmes, Ruth Carter, James Claxton, Doris Claxton, Sister Alice Debie, Sr. M. ## Quick Acting Venice Man Saves Girls From Crash

Quick thinking—and action—by a Venice youth saved two small youngsters from almost certain serious injury last week when the young man chased a moving auto occupied only by the two children, jumped into it and brought it to a stop.

Had the car gone only a short distance farther it would have crashed into an apartment building, according to Bob Ballard, 2006 McCasland avenue, father of the two children.

Ballard said his wife, Judy Ballard, was delivering telephone books and was accompanied in the family car by their daughters, Tonya, 3, and Regina, 7. Mrs. Ballard made a delivery to a second floor apartment and parked the car on Third street at Webster in West Madison.

Mrs. Ballard said she left the motor running and the transmission in parking gear. Ballard said he learned that the older daughter, Regina, moved the gear lever, putting the car into reverse. The car began moving backward.

Ballard said he was not with his wife when the incident occurred and that he went to Venice and West Madison the following evening to identify the young man who stopped the car.

"I learned the person who stopped the car was Dell Turner of 155 Lee Wright Homes, (Venice), and I think an act such as his is something that should be commended, particularly in these days of so much criticism," Ballard said. Turner is 22.

Ballard added: "I was told that he had to run after the car which was picking up pretty good speed and jumped into the car at a considerable risk to himself."

Sister Bernadina is GC 'Honorary Citizen'

Sister Bernadina, who has completed a year of administrative residency at St. Elizabeth Hospital and was to leave this week for her native country of India, was presented with a plaque by Mayor Donald Partney making her an "Honorary Citizen" of Granite City.

The plaque asserted that "Sister Bernadina Poonhotam of the Ursuline Sisters of India, for outstanding service performed in the City of Granite City, has on this day been designated Honorary Citizen of Granite City... and therefore is to be accorded all courtesies due and extended to such 'Honorary Citizen of Granite City.'"

Sister Bernadina received a master's degree in hospital administration from St. Louis University in July. She will assume the duties of assistant administrator of the hospital in Kerala, India.

Receives Promotion

Dennis Lee Wright, 19, U.S. Marine Corps, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Rice, 1249 Fifth street, Madison, has been promoted to corporal in Cuba where he has been stationed since January. He has been in service for the past year.

SISTER BERNADINA accepts an Honorary Citizen plaque from Mayor Donald Partney before leaving for her home in Kerala, India.

Price Pledges Fair Campaign Practices

Cong. Melvin Price has announced in Washington that he has signed the Fair Campaign Practices Code for this year's election.

In making the announcement, Price said adherence to fair campaign practices is important because the American voter needs to be "assured that candidates are responsive and responsible."

In keeping with his past practice of signing the clean elections pledge, the House Ethics Committee chairman said that a "candidate for public office must base his candidacy on public accountability, not private accommodations."

The fair-practice code for candidates was drawn up by Fair Campaign Practices, Inc., headed by Charles P. Taft of Ohio. Former Presidents Truman and Johnson serve as honorary members, as did the late President Eisenhower.

Candidates who sign the code pledge to refrain from slander and abuse, from attacks on the loyalty of opponents, and from appeals to prejudice.

Appropriate $185,000 for Johnson Road

The Granite City council Monday night cleared away final details necessary to improve Johnson road from Johnson road to Lindell avenue. The improvement calls for a 36-foot wide roadway from curb to curb with curbing and guttering and bituminous surface.

Council members also approved a recommendation of the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission that the city permit the commission to call bids on new police cars that are to be purchased for Granite City with a grant from the commission.

The council approved one resolution appropriating $105,000 in motor fuel tax funds for improvement of Johnson road from Lindell avenue to Ponton road. Remaining sections of the proposed improvement were covered by the second resolution appropriating $80,000 for improvement of Johnson road from Franklin avenue to Johnson road and for that section of Johnson road from Johnson road to Lindell avenue. The improvement calls for a 36-foot wide roadway from curb to curb with curbing and guttering and bituminous surface.

Several council members at first were reluctant to go along with the suggestion that the commission call the bids for local police cars until it was explained that the cars are being bought with money being provided by the commission in the first place, and not with regular city funds. The council authorized City Clerk Robert Stevens to fill out forms required by the commission.

Report in 90 Days
Cong. Melvin Price informed council members by letter Monday night that an investigation into motivations for closing the Army Depot has been underway by the federal General Accounting Office, which have assured the congressman that a report will be completed within the next 90 days.

Assistance from Congressman Price had been sought by council members in obtaining a quick study and an early report on the Depot closing, which Granite City officials are seeking to avert.

City Clerk Stevens was authorized to check prices on the purchase of 50 large American flags to be flown along Madison avenue and other streets on patriotic holidays after a letter requesting the city take such action was presented by Schuler. The letter was written by Steve Konkovich, public relations officer of Amvet Post 53 who pointed out that other communities display the flag on holidays.

Alderman Charles Moerlein raised the question of whether service organizations would under to put up and take down the flags or whether it would be the city's responsibility.

Aldermen pointed out such a project could run into overtime cost and that problems could arise in getting the flags placed and taken down on holidays.

Local Share of Ill. Income Tax Over $20,000 Monthly

Governor Richard B. Ogilvie this week announced distribution to municipalities and counties of $4,300,416 as their one-twelfth share of state income tax collections for July. Included were $15,723 for Granite City, $2892 for Madison and $2110 for Venice.

Madison county netted $24,396 for its unincorporated area. With 25 municipalities receiving $55,244, the grand total for Madison county was $89,641.

July was the first month of the state's 1971 fiscal year. Total distribution to cities, villages and counties since distribution began last September is $61,680,016.

The governor explained that since monthly distributions are based upon monthly receipts from corporate and individual taxpayers, distributions will vary from month to month.

He stressed that the money made available to the local governments through the revenue sharing plan is given on a "strings-attached" basis, for use as the governing bodies of these local government units see fit.

Thus far, he said, the local governments have used the money to meet a wide variety of needs within their communities.

In some cases, the grants have enabled a local government unit to lower its tax rate, and in a great many more, they have enabled a governing body hard-pressed by inflation to avoid a tax increase.

Starting with the July distribution, Gov. Ogilvie added, the process will be handled by the Department of Local Government Affairs instead of the Department of Finance.

Salary Rise For Venice School Cooks Approved

A new salary schedule for cooks employed in the school cafeteria, providing a wage increase of 20c an hour for the first year and an additional 15 cents an hour the second year, was approved by the Venice school board Monday night.

The two-year agreement provides a raise from $2.32 per hour to $2.52 for head cooks during the first year, the salary going to $2.67 an hour the second year.

For regular cooks the agreement raises the present $2.20 per hour to $2.40 per hour, with a second-year increase to $2.55. Substitute cooks now receiving $1.80 an hour will get $2 the first year of the agreement, and $2.15 per hour the second year.

Transfer Funds
The board also approved resolutions Monday night transferring $500 from the existing cash fund to the Lincoln Vocational Center, and transferring another $500 from the working cash fund to the educational fund.

Appointment of Harold Moody as a clerk-typist in the office, and Cynthia C. as a teacher at Lincoln Center also was approved.

Request for a maternity leave to Nov. 1 was accepted from Mrs. Lena Rush, kindergarten teacher.

'Missa Luba' Congolese Mass Scheduled Monday

A pure Congolese Mass, completely devoid of any modern western influences, which basically remains a series of spontaneous and unwritten improvisations, will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Monday at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, 1821 Tenth street, Madison.

The religious ceremony will be given under the direction of Miss Katherine Dunham, by the Performing Arts Dance Company of Southern Illinois University Center for the Performing Arts.

The program, sponsored by the Venice-Madison Fine Arts Committee, will be preceded by four organ selections by Kathleen Thomerson, organist-director of University Methodist Church, St. Louis, and presentation of Chuck and Danny Folk Singers from the Polychromatic Umbrella.

The "Missa Luba" or Congolese Mass was developed through the efforts of Rev. Fr. Guido Haazen of Belgium who arrived in the Congo in the early 1950's. Unlike most missionaries, the Congolese believe, the priest came to learn as well as to teach.

Miss Dunham explained that Rev. Haazen gathered 45 young boys together to form Les Troubadours du Roi Boudouin, through which "he taught Christianity in the manner of the Carpenter," his followers said.

"In loving his teenage black neighbors as himself, he, in effect, was saying—I honor your ways and those of your fathers. Mass, please sing it in the manner of your people. Not my way, but your way," Miss Dunham explained.

The Missa Luba is pure Congolese, completely devoid of

Attends National Drug Educational Program

Gerald Brown, newly appointed assistant principal at Central junior high school, was among participants in the National Drug Education Training program held recently over a one-month period at the University of Wisconsin.

The training program is part of a 3.5 million dollar grant through the Office of Education of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. President Nixon emphasized in a March 11, 1970, statement that there is no priority higher in his administration than to see that the public learns the facts about drugs through education.

The training program is a "spring board" for drug education throughout the nation. Thirteen states sent groups to Madison, Wis. These groups will become state teams to work on state and local levels in Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Maryland, Michigan, Missouri, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Virginia, West Virginia, and Wisconsin. Their goal is to produce a "multiplier" effect to reach every student and school personnel by June, 1971.

Wisconsin conceived its own proposal for the program and is its own administration, with HEW guiding closely, allocating objectives:

- (1) To provide the trainees with experience which will give them an authentic understanding of the drug scene;
- (2) To provide them with techniques for effecting behavioral and attitudinal changes;
- (3) To inform them about drug education, and resources;
- (4) To provide teams with leadership training to train others to analyze the drug culture in a school community, to supplement or initiate drug education programs, and to stimulate community awareness and marshal community resources.

after polls close

VOTING MACHINE method to be used for the first time by Madison county electors in the Nov. 3 general election. A lever at upper right is pulled to the name of the candidate to receive the vote, center, with the total count for each candidate to appear on the machine immediately after the polls close.

Use of Voting Machine Explained by Official

Five election judges will continue to serve at the polls at the Nov. 3 general election when voting machines will be used for the first time in Madison county, it was emphasized today by Miss Eulalia Hotz, county clerk.

Voting machines will be used in each of the 193 precincts in the county at the general election. An extensive program will be implemented by Miss Hotz to acquaint the public with the simplicity of voting on a machine.

The ballot is set up on the machine in vertical columns just like the paper ballot to which Madison county voters are accustomed. You cannot over-vote for any office, nor can you spoil your ballot in any way as there are mechanical safeguards that prevent it.

Many persons have asked Miss Hotz if the machines permit a voter to split his ticket for any office and she assured them that this is just as easy on the machine as it was on the paper ballot. Also, persons who prefer to vote a straight Democratic or Republican ballot may do so by pulling down to the left the appropriate large Party lever at the top of the ballot.

At the close of the polls, an election judge will turn the key that locks the figures in the machine and the totals will immediately appear under the name of each candidate. Judges will then write the total vote for each candidate on the proper certificate of results.

The law still remains in effect which requires one of the judges to phone the results to the county clerk's office. A Democrat and Republican judge will bring in the certificate of results and the precinct containing the voter's registration records to the county clerk's office. Everything should be completed by 10 p.m. on election night. Miss Hotz estimated the use of voting machines should be a boon to the judges.

In reply to several inquiries, Miss Hotz stated each voter will be required to sign the regular application for ballot at the polls before being permitted to vote.

The use of voting machines will eliminate the necessity for calling in five additional tally judges at 6 p.m. which is mandatory in precincts having over 600 registered voters where paper ballots are used.

There are 100 precincts at present with more than 600 registered voters.

Food Stamps Given To 433,000 in June

Over 433,000 persons in all 102 Illinois counties received food assistance through the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Food Stamp Program during June, according to Dennis M. Doyle, Midwest regional director of Food and Nutrition Service.

The total included 329,950 on public aid and 103,493 other low-income persons.

During June, Illinois participants received almost $10.5 million worth of food coupons of which nearly $4.4 million were bonus coupons. This was a bonus average of $12.39 per person.

GSI Car Division Gets $13 Million Contracts

The St. Louis Car Division of General Steel Industries, Inc., has received contracts totaling $13,475,000 to build 52 additional rapid transit cars for the New York Metropolitan Transportation Authority and seven additional double-deck commuter cars for the Chicago South Suburban Mass Transit District, Delancey J. Davis, president of St. Louis Car announced Tuesday.

The Transportation Authority exercised an option to buy 52 more rapid transit cars at a cost of $11,402,000 under a contract, signed last February, which initially called for St. Louis Car to deliver 240 new-model cars, larger and faster than any now running on the New York subways, at a cost of $50,993,000. These cars are scheduled to be delivered in 1971 and 1972. The 52 additional cars covered by the option are for use on the Staten Island Rapid Transit.

The Chicago South Suburban Mass Transit District exercised an option to purchase seven additional double-deck commuter cars at a cost of $2,073,000 under a contract which initially called for the building of 123 of these high-speed cars at a cost of $37,797,000. Deliveries of the first of these cars will begin late this year. They will replace 44-year-old cars now in use and will seat 152 persons in cool comfort, compared to the 84 riders in the old cars.

Parked Auto Struck

Morris F. Coburn, 2452 Cleveland blvd., reported at 5:15 p.m. Monday that the right front fender of his auto was struck by a hit-and-run driver while it was parked at his home during the early morning hours.

Michael G. Flach in AF Reserve Training

Michael G. Flach, son of Mrs. Mildred K. Flach, 3144 Davis avenue, is participating in a U. S. Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps field training encampment at Plattsburgh AFB, N.Y.

During the encampment, cadets become familiar with the life and activities on Air Force bases and can examine career opportunities in which they might wish to serve as officers. Other highlights of the course include survival training, aircraft and aircrew indoctrination, small arms training and visits to other Air Force bases.

Cadet Flach is a member of the AFOTC unit at the University of Illinois at Champaign. He is a 1967 graduate of Granite City senior high school. His wife, Maybell, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bing Lee, 3004 Indiana avenue, Granite City, Ill.

Two Held for Theft Enter Innocent Pleas

Harold E. Pounds, 35, of St. Ann, Mo., and Walter J. Eley, 33, of Normandy, Mo., two of three men charged with theft of a boat and motor during the weekend, pleaded innocent Monday in magistrate court where bonds were set at $1000 each.

Eley posted bond and was released. Pounds was taken to the Madison county jail at Edwardsville in lieu of bond. The third man charged is Charles H. Rodebaugh, 35, of St. Louis.

Reunion of WW II Air Combat Units Planned

The first Grand Reunion of World War II air combat units, air and ground crews, will be held in St. Louis Sept. 5 through Sept. 7 over the Labor Day weekend, it was announced by Leo Volkmer, former U. S. Army Air Corps pilot and organizer of the event.

Several thousand men who served in air units in a combat theater of operations in world war II are expected to attend.

Hotel reservations for Air Corps personnel attending the event should be made at the Sheraton-Jefferson Hotel. Reservations for Navy and Marine Corps personnel should be made at Stouffer's Riverfront Inn. Reunion information may be obtained by writing to the Grand Reunion Convention headquarters at the Sheraton-Jefferson, or by calling 872-9063 in St. Louis.

Volkmer said the reunion will "unite thousands of air combat personnel for the first time in the quarter-century since World War II."
